Israel Refuses Ike's Plea; Won't Yield

Ben-Gurion Insists Door Still Open For Negotiations On Mideast Crisis

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — Israel refused Thursday night to bow to President Eisenhower's appeal to withdraw immediately behind the armistice lines. But Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion insisted the door is still open for negotiations. Addressing Parliament after a critical cabinet meeting, Ben-Gurion declared anew that Israel must have guarantees of freedom of navigation in the Gulf of Aqaba, plus security against raids from the Gaza Strip.

"No matter what may happen, Israel will not submit to restoration of the status quo in the strip," he said. Before last October's invasion Egypt controlled the strip, formerly a part of Palestine, under the 1949 armistice terms.

Ben-Gurion said Israel is seeking further negotiations to reach an understanding with the United Nations and with the United States.

Ambassador Abba Eban, returning Friday to Washington, will convey the Israeli government's position. He had been summoned home to give a first-hand report to Ben-Gurion and the cabinet.

President Eisenhower Wednesday night called on Israel to meet U.N. demands that Israel withdraw from Gaza and from the Sharm El Sheikh area overlooking the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba. He in effect held over Israel the threat of U.S. backing for punitive sanctions by the United Nations.

Thursdays in Washington, Eisenhower appealed to American Jewish leaders to use their influence with the Israeli government. In London, meantime, the President's statement came under fire from Laborite members of the House of Commons. The British Foreign Office said Britain feels Israeli withdrawal should be combined with a U.N. guarantee of free passage in the Aqaba gulf.

The 70-year-old Israeli Prime Minister told Parliament: "We hope the door is not closed to further discussion. The government has decided to make a further effort to reach an understanding with the United States."

He said of the Aqaba Gulf coast: "Israel has no need and no desire to occupy the desolate coastal strip of the (Tiran) Straits. But she cannot withdraw from the area without effective security guarantees that the Egyptian dictator's acts of violence against her shipping — which the United Nations has tolerated for years — will not be repeated."

"Israel dare not unconditionally abandon the defense of her rights and her security in the straits."

The white haired leader made these proposals for Aqaba and Gaza:

"The government of Israel considers it essential that the United Nations emergency force should be stationed on the coast of the straits to safeguard freedom of navigation of Israeli shipping until peace is concluded with Egypt, or until some other reliable and effective arrangement is made to this end."

"As for the Gaza Strip, either directly or indirectly, and the United Nations and Israel should arrive at an agreed settlement which will guarantee security for Israel and her settlements in the south and Negeb, will provide for the rehabilitation of the permanent residents, impoverished during the period of Egyptian occupation, and will pave the way for a solution of the problem of the refugees by the United Nations.

"Israel is prepared to help in the rehabilitation of the local inhabitants and to contribute to the maximum of her ability to the solution of the refugee problem."

Equality Means Equality Means Equality

Nebraska's motto, "Equality Before the Law," is demonstrated by this State Safety Patrol car on which a Lincoln police officer put an overtime parking ticket Thursday while it was parked on the west side of the U.S. Post Office Building. A patrolman turned up at Police Headquarters a few hours later and paid the customary fine. Police Capt. Orren Graves said any vehicle — except a designated emergency vehicle actually on emergency duty—will be ticketed for parking violations in Lincoln. This even includes cars of policemen themselves, he said. (Star Staff Photo.)

Icy Glaze, Snow Slow State Travel

... Cold Wave To Continue Today

Freezing drizzle and rain, followed by snow, traveled from west to east over Nebraska Thursday and the sudden cold wave, to continue Friday, made travel in the state extremely hazardous.

Snow depth in the Lincoln area reached about one inch. Precipitation from the freezing drizzle was .05 of an inch. The extreme southeastern area is expected to remain in the grip of a cold wave through Friday.

The freezing drizzle and rain, followed by snow, made Lincoln streets extremely icy Thursday and early Friday.

Traffic was nearly at a standstill at Atkinson, where an inch of snow had accumulated on top of the ice and the mercury had dropped to zero by late afternoon.

Highs 5 to 15. Cold temperatures Friday were expected to prevent the mercury from rising higher than 5 to 15 degree above zero in the east, 10 to 20 west.

Snow and rain brought as much as .15 inch of precipitation to Chadron and Norfolk. Most other Nebraska weather stations reported at least .05 inch.

Heavy snow was reported west of Grand Island Thursday evening, but snow stopped temporarily in the extreme western end of the state.

The State Highway Department said highways throughout the state were "very hazardous" and travelers should be extremely cautious.

Bus travel in the state was slowed considerably late Thursday because of the hindrance of slow automobile traffic. Air travel was normal.

Freezing drizzle or rain and fog, followed by snow, were reported at Kearney, McCook, Norfolk, North Platte, Imperial, Omaha and Grand Island.

Harrison, Valentine, Burrwell, Scottsbluff, Chadron, Alliance, Sidney and Ainsworth all reported snow and fog.

Brownell Confers With President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell conferred with President Eisenhower Thursday, but refused to say afterward whether the talk dealt with an appointment to the Supreme Court.

Brownell's name, among others, has been mentioned for the vacancy left by retirement of Justice Stanley Reed.

The White House would only say the call concerned Justice Department matters.

Boom In Irrigation Wells Hits State

Addition of the largest number of irrigation wells in any year in Nebraska was farmers' response to drought conditions in 1956.

Eugene Reed, director of the Conservation and Survey Division, said that a preliminary census showed at the close of 1956:

—An increase of 4,100 new wells, or a 26 per cent increase during the past year.

—A total of more than 19,000 irrigation wells in the state.

—Not only the largest numerical increase in any year, but also the highest percentage increase in any year.

Irrigation Census

told the Nebraska Well Drillers Association.

"But we do know 1956 was the biggest year on record for irrigation wells, and we see no letup ahead in 1957," he said.

He also said that the groundwater level is now at its lowest level on record. But, Reed added, groundwater is not down to a degree "that is causing us any grave immediate concern at this time."

However, he explained that "there has been no opportunity to evaluate the present water level picture for the complete state."

Reed believes that groundwater in most areas has a "good chance"

Sheriff Says He Didn't Hit Accused

U.S. Judge Could Order New Trial For Condemned Man

By VIRGIL FALLOON

Star Staff Writer

Cherry County Sheriff William Freeman testified Thursday that he "turned" Loyd Grandsinger's head for photographers, but did not strike or threaten the prisoner after his apprehension by a posse.

Freeman took the stand during the concluding day of testimony in Grandsinger's habeas corpus hearing before Federal District Judge John W. Delehant.

Judge Delehant said final oral arguments would be heard later and allowed 10 days for the filing of the state's brief and five days for a reply brief by Grandsinger's attorneys.

If Judge Delehant rules in favor of Grandsinger, and the decision is upheld, the condemned man would get a new state trial.

If Judge Delehant's ruling is adverse to Grandsinger's contention, and the decision is upheld on appeal, a new date for Grandsinger's execution would be fixed by the State Supreme Court.

Testimony Contradictory

Sheriff Freeman's testimony contradicted earlier testimony by Grandsinger and Dale Shepperd of Springfield, a Keya Paha County special deputy sheriff.

"I just put my hand on top of his head and turned it so photographers could get pictures," Freeman said.

Safety Patrolman Curtis Cochran, driver of the patrol car in which the alleged slapping incident occurred, testified he did not see or hear Grandsinger struck or threatened enroute back to Valentine.

Said He Was Slapped

Grandsinger and Shepperd had testified that the handcuffed Grandsinger was "jerked by the hair" and "slapped four or five times" by Freeman in the patrol car.

Patrolman Cochran also testified Grandsinger's pants "were wet up to the pockets" but letters taken from his coat pocket were "just damp" shortly after Grandsinger was pulled from the Niobrara River by a posse.

Grandsinger has claimed he was not permitted to change his "wet clothes" for more than six hours from the time he was apprehended until he had signed a statement in connection with the shooting of Safety Patrolman Marvin Hansen on April 8, 1954.

Others Didn't Know

"Others who testified that they did not know of any abuse toward Grandsinger were Mrs. Frances Bloom of Valentine, who transcribed Grandsinger's statement; Ben F. Wilkinson, clerk of the Cherry County District Court, who witnessed the statement's signing, and Jack Knudson, former Safety Patrol criminal investigator who helped, question Grandsinger.

Mrs. Bloom said Grandsinger "thought through his answers and spoke clearly and freely."

Safety Patrol Capt. Harold Smith, who was present during subsequent interrogation of Grandsinger and the re-enactment of events at the shooting scene later, testified Grandsinger was not abused

All Farmers Given Funds

Maximum Initial Allotment On Corn Land Assured By Action

By HARRIET ASHLEY

Star Staff Writer

The government has given Nebraska "what amounts to a blank check" to continue to sign up farmers under the corn soil bank for maximum initial acreage, according to Robert Webb, state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation administrative officer.

Farmers in the state's 61 commercial corn producing counties may continue to sign up until March 8 for 20 acres or 30 per cent of their corn allotment, whichever is the greater.

The state ASC office was notified, "You are hereby authorized to permit counties to sign agreements with all farmers under the maximum corn acreage. We will consider state funds allocated to cover 6B and 6C under the state report." Sections 6B and 6C concern compensation for allowable acres to counties which have exhausted their funds. More than half the counties used up their allocation during the first week.

The government "blank check" does not include payment for acres above the maximum. Last week's report to the ASC office showed that nearly $9 million was being sought by farmers who wanted to put more than their allowed acreage into the soil bank.

The weekly report also indicated about $3.5 million was being asked under the terms the government is now offering to pay. More than 26,000 farmers in Nebraska have already signed up 507,928 acres under the corn soil bank and many counties, which had exhausted their funds, began to take names in case additional funds became available.

During the first week, $13,887,854 of the state's $16,400,000 allocation had been involved in agreements.

Webb said, "We can now disregard the state allocation. This is what we have been hoping for."

All Corn, Spring Wheat

The U.S. Department of Agriculture widened the field in the entire commercial corn area and spring wheat areas.

Thursday's action was taken because it now appears, the department said, that some corn and spring wheat counties will not use their full allotments. Their surpluses will be apportioned among counties which already have used their allotment.

The department's aim under the soil bank program is to retire at least 25 million acres from production of crops now in surplus supply.

Through Feb. 15, it reported, farmers had signed agreements to retire 15,251,000 acres that would have been used for cotton, corn, wheat, rice and tobacco. If they comply, they will be entitled to payments amounting to $378,386,945.

Burglars Enter Campus Inn

Burglars entered the Campus Inn, 895 No. 16th, sometime Thursday night, taking an undetermined amount of cigarettes and money.

Police said the nickelodeon coin-box was smashed and the contents removed and that the safe had apparently been tampered with but not opened.

The burglars apparently entered through a window well in the basement.

Boundary Group Sought By Iowa

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa House Judiciary Committee recommended Thursday the passage of a resolution which would establish a special legislative committee to confer with a similar group from Nebraska concerning the Iowa-Nebraska boundary.

However, the committee proposed an amendment which would delay the required report of the conference from the 1957 to the 1959 Legislature.

Army-National Guard Compromise Seems To Be Shaping

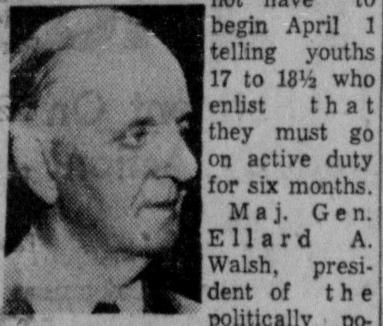

Vinson Is Hopeful

...Of Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal to end the Army-National Guard row over active duty, giving the Guard what it wants most for the present, was launched from Capitol Hill Thursday.

The proposal was complicated and so was its sponsorship, but one thing stuck out:

If it is adopted the Guard will not have to begin April 1 telling youths 17 to 18½ who enlist that they must go on active duty for six months.

Maj. Gen. Eillard A. Walsh, president of the politically potent National Guard Assn. and chief spokesman of the Guard in its legislative campaigns, promptly said practically all points in the proposal were acceptable.

The Army, however, said the proposed compromise plan would "defer the necessary training so far in the future that it would not correct the training need that now faces the National Guard and the Army."

The Army said its statement was based on "a very quick analysis" of news reports of the plan.

The proposal was made public after a closed and apparently stormy meeting of a House Armed Services Subcommittee. It did not have the official approval of the subcommittee but it did have the emphatic blessing of Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), chairman of the full committee, whose opinions are generally received with respect at the Pentagon.

"Yes, sirree, I'm for it," Vinson told a reporter. "And I have great hopes that something along those lines will be worked out."

The subcommittee took a vote, rescinded it, and finally authorized a statement that its "sense" was that Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La.) should try to work out a compromise. Brooks then told newsmen what he planned to lay immediately before the Army and National Guard. But some subcommittee members disassociated themselves from the proposal.

Would Amend Order

As outlined by Brooks, the settlement plan would greatly amend an Army order requiring men who enlist in the National Guard April 1 and thereafter, if they have no previous military experience, to take six months active training duty. The guard, which now requires no active duty, said this requirement would wreck its recruiting.

The Guard offered to require 11 weeks active duty of youths under 18½ and let the six-months rule, which matches minimum requirements in other reserve programs, apply to older recruits.

If Brooks' proposals are accepted, the Guard would be allowed to go ahead on this basis, but the six-months requirement for all would go into effect June 30, 1958, barring further developments.

If, before June 30, 1958, the Guard reached a strength of 408,100 and held it for two months, it would be considered that the Guard no longer needed the special recruiting incentive of an 11 weeks training period. The six-months requirement for all then would go into effect.

This two-month test period is the single provision to which Walsh objected. He said the test period should be at least six months instead of only two.

Whatever measure of agreement Brooks may obtain on these proposals seemed certain to come back to the subcommittee for further arguments.

Two members, Reps. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) and Devereux (R-Md.), emphasized in separate interviews that they — and the subcommittee — had agreed to no proposals but only to the idea that Brooks should try to effect a compromise.

U.S. Women Make Men Feel Inferior — Churchill's Son

LONDON (AP)—After a New York visit, Randolph Churchill, son of the former Prime Minister, reported in "Everybody's Magazine": "Since American men have an inferiority complex about women and the women own most of the property, the country has for some years been largely controlled by the matriarchy."

But he found American girls "incomparably more attractive" than English girls.

or threatened by himself or anyone else during these periods.

On cross-examination, Sheriff Freeman also testified that Grand-singer was not permitted to see members of his family until Wednesday — six days after his apprehension and two days after his preliminary hearing.

Freeman said Grandsinger was given a change of clothes and a chicken-fried steak meal costing $1.25 after he signed the statement.

He said this took "about an hour" before subsequent interrogation by Freeman and Patrol members was continued until about 3 a.m.

Statement Before Jury

Rush Clark of North Platte, special prosecutor at Grandsinger's trial, testified that a statement concerning the probing of a bullet hole in Hansen's belt by Charles A. Fisher, Grandsinger's trial counsel, was made before the Cherry County District Court jury.

But, Clark testified he "did not wave any exhibit before the jury." Clark said the statement followed a 40-minute to one-hour discussion between counsels in the judge's chambers.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Ralph D. Nelson, counsel of Warden Joseph Bovey in the proceedings, read medical and other testimony from the trial record concerning the bullet wound in Hansen's body.

22-Caliber Bullet

Effect of the testimony was that the wound was made by a 22-caliber bullet and not a 38-caliber. Grandsinger's defense has contended he was deprived of effective legal counsel when the jury was told that Fisher had probed the hole in Hansen's belt and materially enlarged it.

His defense has also contended a confession was pressured from Grandsinger by physical abuse, fear of mob violence, and depriving him of dry clothes and food until after a statement was made.

Forty Escape

NEWRY, Northern Ireland (AP)—Forty northern Ireland territorial army men escaped injury by a few minutes when a time bomb demolished a building where they had been drilling.

The men had gone to a canteen 20 yards away when the blast knocked them from their chairs, rocked the walls and blew in windows of a church 40 yards away.

Group Selects C. Merrihew As Top Flyer

Curt Merrihew of Ellsworth, Neb., was named the outstanding Nebraska Flying Farmer for 1957 by the Nebraska Flying Farmers and Ranchers group at the Cornhusker Hotel Thursday night.

The award was presented by Lee Arnot Jr. of Central States Air Supply before more than 200 members attending the convention.

Mrs. Robert (Bethene) Smoots of Monroe was selected the 1957 Queen of the Nebraska Flying Farmers and Ranchers. Irene Schmit of David City was chosen the alternate queen.

Ten members and their wives received charter member pins from the group which was founded in Nebraska in 1946.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Reed Carsten of Clatonia, Mr. and Mrs. Thane Davis of Hyannis, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cornell of Beaver City, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Quinn of Gothenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Monke of Nickerson, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Knievel of West Point, and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Schneider of Culbertson.

Flying Farmers, Ranchers Re-Elect Lee Hagemeister

Lee Hagemeister of Potter was re-elected president of the Nebraska Flying Farmers and Ranchers.

Also re-elected were Bill Couton, Loup City, first vice president, and Elmer Wynegar, Ulysses, second vice president. William R. Smoots, Monroe, was elected secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Smoots was elected executive secretary.

Elected as a national director was Curt Merrihew of Ellsworth. Ranchers and farmers attending the 12th annual convention in Lincoln were given a tour of the Lincoln Air Force Base and briefed on air refueling operations.

The convention was attended by Lawrence Sutter of Wichita, national secretary. Also attending were the organization's national queens for the past three years.

Baltimore Dockers OK Pact

General Return To Work Near

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore shippers and longshoremen announced agreement Thursday night on a new contract which could pave the way for a general return to work at piers along the Atlantic coast.

The agreement was reached after an all-day session between the Baltimore International Longshoremen's Assn. and the Steamship Trade Assn.

A union spokesman said Baltimore's 7,400 ILA members "will return to work at 8 a.m. (EST) Saturday if the other ports do too." He said the Baltimore dockers would not return until a settlement is reached at Norfolk, Va.

August Idzik, head of the Baltimore ILA said the agreement is "subject to the ratification by the membership."

Baltimore shippers and dockers earlier Thursday had agreed on terms of a master coastwide contract but local issues still were to be ironed out.

This was done in sessions Thursday night.

East Coast longshoremen defied their union leaders earlier Thursday in a one-for-all, all-for-one ginia waterfront strike.

John P. Krul, chairman of the negotiating committee for the Steamship Trade Assn. said only: "We have reached agreement."

All Or Nothing

DOORN, Netherlands (AP)—The village council asked the popular retiring burgomaster if it might name a street Van Der Hoop Avenue in his honor. No, he said, for him it would have to carry his full name: Dr. M. P. Thomassen A. Tuessink Van Der Hoop Van Slochteren. The council is thinking up another name.

Industry Influx To Up Need For Water By 50 Per Cent

The forecast influx of industry into Nebraska in the next five or six years is expected to increase by at least 50 per cent the amount of water now required by industry.

C. V. Price, chief of the Division of Nebraska Resources, said Thursday evening that at present industry uses about 2.75 per cent of the available water. By 1963, he said, this amount should be around four per cent.

He spoke before the 26th annual conference and short course of the Nebraska Well Drillers Association.

"This expected increase in the industrial use of water means that the principal burden of water conservation is going to rest with agriculture, which is now using the largest share of water."

Conservation Necessary

This water conservation is necessary, he explained, if we are going to obtain a balance between agriculture and industry in the state.

Price said that history shows that the importance of water is never really appreciated until a crisis arrives.

"But I feel that this will not happen in Nebraska. We have far-sighted leaders who are going to see to it that our water situation does not reach the critical stage."

He listed among these leaders Eugene Reed, director of the University of Nebraska's Conservation and Survey Division; State Sen. Don Thompson of McCook; and Dan Jones of the State Bureau of

Two Car Collision In Storm Kills 4

MIDWEST, Wyo. (AP)—Four persons were killed when two cars rammed head-on during a snow flurry 6 miles south of Midwest Thursday.

Killed instantly were Henry J. Kupilik, 47; his wife, Loraine, 42, and their 1-year-old son, all of Billings, Mont.

Paul Schneider, about 32, of Casper, died in an ambulance en route to a Casper Hospital.

Billy Joe Conn, about 30, passenger in Schneider's car, is hospitalized in Casper with critical injuries.

Natrona County Coroner William Bustard said the Kupilik family was en route home from Scottsbluff, Neb., where they had been visiting Mrs. Kupilik's parents.

The Kupiliks had moved from Scottsbluff to Billings about two years ago, Bustard said. Two school-age Kupilik children were left at Billings, and not taken on the trip.

C. F. McKinney, a Casper truck driver who was following the Kupilik car, saw the crash. He said near the bottom of a long hill the northbound Kupilik car swerved to the right side of the road, veered back onto the highway and cut across the road into the path of the oncoming Schneider car.

In prison Turner taught Sunday school classes. In 1955 he walked away from the Columbia, S. C. honor farm.

Married

He came to Des Moines under the name of Lee Gaines and enrolled for evening classes in Drake University's Community College under that name. He married a Florida girl, worked days in a service station, talked religion with his Bible instructor and preached parttime at a mission in Des Moines.

Gaines alias Turner, was described Thursday as a "wonderful evangelist," a "serious, average student," and a "good worker" by people who knew him there.

Turner said in Indianapolis he would fight extradition to South Carolina. He carried a Bible with him when he was taken to the Marion County jail when he failed to post a $50,000 bond.

NREA Seeks Ft. Randall Line OK

Two Resolutions Renew Fight For Power Transmission Link

By DEL. HARDING
Star Staff Writer

Renewed efforts to secure federal approval of a proposed 230 kilovolt transmission line from Ft. Randall, S. D., to Grand Island, Neb., were planned Thursday at the closing session of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association convention in Lincoln.

The group endorsed two resolutions concerning the transmission line. One set up a seven-man committee headed by Nebraska Public Power System Executive Director Dewey J. DeBoer of Columbus to seek approval of the line by the Bureau of the Budget and Congress.

The second resolution "calls for assistance from friends of rural electrification in all states for support in our efforts to secure approval . . . for an appropriation of approximately nine million dollars to construct" the line.

In January the Democratic chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Public Works, Rep. Kirwan of Ohio, stated that a proposal for the transmission line "has no chance of Appropriations Committee approval."

Kirwan has said that since Nebraska members of Congress have voted against such power projects in other states he sees no reason why other states should pay for a transmission line for Nebraska.

The NREA resolutions declared that it is "common knowledge that this line is the most feasible of all transmission lines in the Missouri Basin Development."

The line, the resolution added, "is necessary to interconnect the Missouri River system of hydroelectric power plants with the greatest load center for required pump irrigation power in the United States, namely the load center at Grand Island, Neb., with five radiating 115 KV lines serving an area with thousands of pump irrigation wells and tens of thousands of farms and ranches."

The resolution stated the NREA "cannot accept a refusal (of approval to build the line) as an act of good faith with the people of this drought-stricken area . . ."

Lyle Marotz of Hoskins was named the Association's new president. Ed L. Hahn of Tecumseh was elected treasurer and a district vice president. Ernest Sjogren of Axtell was also elected a district vice president. Norval Diehl of Stratton was re-elected a district vice president and Paul Ogier of Wallace was re-elected secretary.

Mrs. Lyle Marotz, wife of the new president, was elected to head the NREA women's auxiliary. Mrs.

MRS. LYLE MAROTZ

George Buchta of Osceola was chosen alternate chairman and Mrs. John M. Clemm of Lincoln was re-elected co-chairman.

Maj. Gen. G. E. Galloway district engineer at Omaha for the U. S. Corps of Engineers, spoke at a luncheon.

"Give us just one or two really good years of precipitation and an opportunity to fill the (four Missouri Basin) reservoirs up to operating levels," he declared, "and the current problems of water allocation will largely disappear."

Gen. Galloway said the four reservoirs now contain only slightly over 14 million acre-feet of combined storage water. Their full capacity, he said, is about 50 million acre-feet.

"We can well afford to exercise a little patience before demanding full performance from these reservoirs and full value from water resources which only a few years ago were almost totally wasted," he declared.

Floridan Found Hanged; His Girl Refused Wedding

PENSACOLA, Fla. (P)—John Lamar White, 21, told Janice Godwin he would kill himself if she didn't marry him. He hanged himself in her backyard a few hours later.

Officers found him hanging by a rope fastened to a tree limb. State Atty. Ed Wicke returned a verdict of suicide.

Cancellation of March 2 wedding plans for White and Miss Godwin had been announced on the society page of the Pensacola News.

Officers said White showed her a rope and told her he planned to kill himself unless she married him. She took him to a minister, who talked with him.

LONDON (P)—The Yugoslav government newspaper Borba praised President Eisenhower's stand on the possible use of sanctions to persuade Israel to withdraw from Egypt.

Borba said "after unsuccessful negotiations with Israel and certain tactics and hesitation which gave rise to discontent in a considerable part of world public opinion . . . the U.S.A. has finally taken an energetic attitude."

Reds Cite 'Aggressive' Cyprus Aims

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) — Russia accused Britain and the United States Thursday of seeking to maintain Cyprus as a military base for "aggressive" attacks on the Middle East.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin assailed the two Western powers in addressing the U.N. Political Committee on the bitter dispute involving Britain, Greece and Turkey over self-determination for the British-held eastern Mediterranean island.

Tsarapkin charged that Cyprus had been accorded a "special role" in President Eisenhower's Middle East "doctrine" and that the U.S.

was interested in Cyprus mainly as a stationing point for NATO forces.

He accused Britain of artificially fomenting discord between the Greek majority and Turkish minority on Cyprus, "which had lived for years in friendship and harmony," in order to perpetuate its rule of the island.

The Russian said the U.N. could not stand idly by in the dispute but must demand the withdrawal of "all foreign forces" from Cyprus and "liquidation of all military bases." He said Britain must bow to the "will" of the Cypriot people and permit them to carry out self-determination as proposed by Greece.

Tsarapkin endorsed a Greek proposal before the Political Committee expressing the "wish" that self-determination will be carried out in Cyprus. He reserved his position on other proposals before the committee.

Tsarapkin attacked the U.S. for suggesting in the committee that the Cyprus question be settled among the parties themselves. He charged this was an attempt to bypass the U.N.

At the same time British sources indicated Britain will not press for a vote on its U.N. Cyprus resolution if a compromise proposal is presented acceptable to all the parties in the dispute.

In The Long, Long Ago

Long forgotten now is Lawrence of Arabia and his counterpart, Gen. Allenby of the British Army, who played major roles in driving the Turk out of the Middle East.

We have had a great deal of trouble today in understanding the Arab. Few westerners enjoy his confidence. Lawrence of Arabia was one. He camped with them in the desert and at night gathered around the circle to look up at the stars and to dream of the day when this Arab homeland would be free of the Turks. And Lawrence made these Arabs the promises of a new life for which they had long been waiting.

There may or may not have been reasons why those promises were not kept. At least in the eyes of Lawrence, the breach was not supported sufficiently for him to excuse his countrymen or the government for which he had fought. He moved on to India, there to hide himself in the outer rim of its masses after refusing to accept a knighthood from his queen.

The story comes back again and again in these grave days of international crises. Would there have been the grave Middle East problem that caused President Eisenhower to cut short a southern vacation in order to address his countrymen from Washington had those promises been fulfilled? Who knows? Lawrence cannot answer. Allenby has been in his grave for some years. But there, when the tormenting heat of day gives way to the chill of night and the deep stillness of the sand hold an Old World in sway, it seems that the whispering winds try to say that things might have been different now had actually they been different at the close of a global conflict.

Deep Warning

Dr. Edward Teller, generally known as the father of the hydrogen bomb and associate director of the University of California radiation laboratory, has warned that the United States is about to fall behind Soviet Russia in the field of science. Unless we do something about it, he believes, we will have the best scientists in 10 years.

That is a pessimistic forecast made more substantial because of its source. It is another grim reminder that we cannot win security or maintain a leading world position by confining our actions to debating the political aspects of communism and by displays of present capacities for force. There are a few things that belong to no political ism which aid the country that practices them. One is assiduous development of resources of all kinds. There is evidence that Russia is engaged in this more diligently than we are. Unless we begin to think less about enjoying the resources we have developed and set ourselves more earnestly to the task of developing more of them more thoroughly we are apt to fall behind in more ways than science.

The United States itself did not grow into a leading world figure by a consuming political ambition to be one such. Indeed that had little if any part in our planning. But we inevitably became a leading power because as a people we addressed ourselves most diligently for upward of 150 years to the development of the great resources of a rich land. We did it with a minimum of warfare and we were infinitely aided by a free democratic system of society.

Natural resources are still the criterion of growth and success, but in this modern world highly trained manpower in abundance is equally important. We are ceasing to live in the character that made us great if we do not do with manpower and science as we did with forests, mines, waterways, land and wells.

No Time For Division

Nebraska senators got into a spirited argument over a resolution introduced by Sen. Hans

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

This is a story that has been handed down through the ages. Always it has thrilled the hearts of men and women. It is a tale of good earth, 160 acres of it, black earth, sloping gently towards the river, a quarter section of land taken in those years of an earlier Nebraska when the rumbling covered wagon train nosed its lumbering way into the western setting sun.

On the desk in front of us is a news story recording that for the first week of sign-ups for the corn soil bank in Nebraska, a total of 26,205 farmers entered into agreements with Uncle Sam involving 507,928 acres of corn land and $13,887,845.23 of soil bank payments. It was set forth that 61 of the commercial corn-producing counties in Nebraska are seeking a total of $8,913,296 more than their allotments for additional acreage. At least 33 counties of those 61 have exhausted their funds and are asking for an additional total of $2 million for allowable acres and $1 million for acres above the allowable limits. The 160 acres of homestead not far from the bluffs of the Missouri will not add to the stress and pressures of the soil bank program in 1957. Under the Benson program, that homestead farm would be privileged to plant 40 acres of corn—not one square foot more unless willing to swallow a penalty—and 17 acres of wheat—not a single square yard more unless willing to gulp down the penalty. These 160 acres will not participate in the Benson program but will look to the stars at night and the bright sun during the day and place their faith in nature and in God.

While the man on the soil must operate profitably, his heart and his mind are not set entirely upon the money to be made. There is a thrill and a pride for him as he looks out over the rolling hills and takes in the beauty of that field of sturdy corn or the golden halo of a wheat field nearing the harvest. That is something that the pious, deeply spiritual Mr. Benson does not understand. He does not seem to sense the throbbing pulse of the farmer who looks out upon those acres of corn—tall, dark green, flushed with the vigor of life. That is something which the real farmer and the real farmer alone understands.

There he stands in all of his strength, outlined against the horizon, a man of dignity, of resourcefulness, and of a deep abiding faith in the goodness of this world. Secretary Benson talks interminably of crop surpluses. To him, it would appear, the abundant harvest is an abomination to the Lord and a crushing weight thrust upon the backs of men. The Midwest rose up in all good time against Henry Wallace and the slaughter of the little piggies. But it was drought and absence of feed for hungry animals that provided the chief foundation for Mr. Wallace's slaughter of the pigs. With Secretary Benson it is different. There is too much corn, too much wheat, too much of nearly everything that graces good black earth and fills the bellies of hungry millions. Now, back to this 160-acre homestead an approximate 40 miles to the east of Lincoln, a homestead which in the last three years of drought and heat has failed to produce enough to meet taxes and operating expenses. Faith is rooted in the heart of the man who plows the furrow. Peace and serenity walk by his side much of the time.

Less than 40 miles from this particular homestead in the spring of 1854 the great experiment was about to be undertaken with bated breath. But would all this vast region to the west of the Missouri produce sufficient food to support a population? The rains were well spaced, the sun was mellow and warm, God was in his heavens and when fall came with its brown and its chill, the answer was a thumpin' "yes." Those original 640 acres in 1854 produced one whopper of a crop. We assume that had Ezra Taft Benson been in the saddle then, he would have worried himself sick about surpluses.

DREW PEARSON

Washington Was Teacher Of Truth

WASHINGTON, D. C.
February 20, 1957

Dear Drew,

This should reach you about Washington's birthday, and you won't be going to school. Lucky guy. I wish I were like you and didn't have to write a column today. But my schoolteachers—in this case quite a few editors—think I should work regardless of the founder of our country. Perhaps they will let me off with a letter to you instead of a column.

When I was your age I didn't pay much attention to George Washington's birthday except that it gave me a day off from school and my brother used to try to chop me down with a papier-mache hatchet. It took me quite awhile to understand how great a man George Washington was. His press relations weren't very good at that time. He wasn't able to hire B.B.D. and O. or any of the high-powered advertising agencies of Madison Ave. He didn't even have a Jim Hagerty handling his press relations, and the newspapers really went after him before he retired.

But he not only steered this country through its toughest period, he left us some great principles. One you talk about in school is how he told the truth about chopping down that cherry tree. And despite some people's idea that this was a myth, I am glad this is taught and remembered today. Because you can't run a country, or a business, or a family, or even yourself without telling the truth.

The business your granddaddy is in has to worry a lot about the truth. We are always trying to track down the truth, and sometimes the truth is very hard to report. Whole batteries of press relations men are hired in the government and by business firms to conceal the truth, or influence the truth, or gloss over the truth. This makes it difficult to tell the truth. Nevertheless to ignore the truth can be just as bad as not telling the truth. When a newspaperman, for instance, omits the truth in order to curry favor with a bureaucratic or the White House, he is, in effect, lying to the public.

The truth is not always on the surface. It can't be scooped up like cream off the surface of milk. Sometimes it has to be drilled, dynamited, blasted out of piles of bureaucratic red tape and batteries of press officials to get the real facts.

Sometimes also you make mistakes. You think you are telling the truth, but you find you were wrong. I made one the other day about Sen. John Pastore of Rhode Island when I listed him as voting for the natural gas bill. This was a foolish mistake, for he voted just the other way. I shouldn't have made the mistake, and I have now apologized to Sen. Pastore.

I remember during the war I wrote a famous story reporting that General Patton had gone into an Army hospital in Sicily and struck a hospitalized soldier. General Eisenhower's headquarters immediately issued a categorical denial. The story was true, but it was my word against Eisenhower's, and I received indignant telegrams from editors all over the country. The next day, however, General Eisenhower issued a second statement telling the truth and reporting that General Patton had been disciplined.

Love,
GRANDPA

MARQUIS CHILDS

U.S. Seeks Louder, Clearer Voice

WASHINGTON — Having just completed a swing through the Middle East that took him as far as India and Pakistan, Arthur Larson, the new head of the United States Information Agency, wants to try to make America's voice heard more clearly and distinctly in the area where the struggle with Communism is most intense.

Because of the trust and confidence the President puts in him, Larson has a unique opportunity. The first director of the USIA to sit in on all cabinet meetings and with a close connection with the National Security Council, Larson is keenly aware of the total impact America makes on the world, both by deeds and words.

It is not just the words spoken through the Voice of America that give the picture, but events themselves for which government often has a large degree of responsibility.

Thus the government in closing down the Daily Worker, ostensibly for failure to pay taxes, gave the impression that this country was denying the freedom of the press. Part of Larson's expanded job will be to forecast the effect of impending government action on world opinion.

In the Middle East, the first problem is a mechanical one—to make the voice strong enough so that it can be heard throughout the region. As compared to the Communist radio which puts out an incessant stream of propaganda, the Voice of America is a whisper. The listener must fiddle with the dial to bring it in at all and then the volume is far less than of the Communist sender.

The Voice of America broadcasts come from a converted Coast Guard ship anchored in the harbor of Rhodes, one of the Greek islands not far from the Turkish coast. This transmitter is simply not powerful enough to reach the main centers of Arab population. And even this sender, with its limited effectiveness, has been threatened by economy-minded members of Congress.

As a result, the United States in the war for men's minds has failed in the Middle East to come out even a good second best. Broadcasts are of particular importance in this area, since one radio in a bazaar or public square may be heard by hundreds who are illiterate or who never see newspapers.

The hope is to build a land-based transmitting station that will have a clear signal throughout the Middle East. The cost would be about $4,000,000. Larson shortly will go to Congress for budget hearings during which he will draw heavily on the findings of his recent tour.

The pattern that will be continued and strengthened is not for "propaganda" in the invidious sense of the word. The stress will be on factual broadcasting of the news from day to day along with a commentary which will be essentially an exposition of the American viewpoint.

Larson found that the Suez crisis and the American stand after the Egyptian attack had greatly increased the listening audience of the Voice of America. The first objective is to hold these new listeners who managed to find the voice in spite of the difficulty in picking it up.

Larson's rise in the administration has been rapid. He came to Washington in 1953 on leave of absence from his post as dean of the University of Pittsburgh Law School to be undersecretary of Labor. His specialty is labor law.

The President and others high in the administration were attracted to him by the way in which he articulated the Eisenhower middle-of-the-road philosophy, providing the words for the President's conviction of a moderate liberalism between the New Deal and right wing Republicans.

Last year Larson published his book, "A Republican Looks at His Party," which is considered the Bible of the "New Republicanism." He had a part in writing the President's acceptance speech at San Francisco when Mr. Eisenhower was renominated for a second term, and he is thought to have had a hand in drafting the second inaugural address which sounded a high note of dedication in helping to solve the problems of poverty and distress all over the world.

His selection to be head of the USIA is taken as a sign of the new importance to be given to publicizing America's position. In the past USIA has been something of a stepchild. But with the authority that Larson has in the administration, it should be possible to put in much sharper and clearer focus the image of an America whose destiny is to lead the free world. That is Larson's objective. (Copyright, 1957, By U F Syndicate, Inc.)

Where's The End?

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Taxes, taxes, and more taxes! When will it end? Now it's a sales tax, but that is not needed here in Nebraska. Such a tax would really hurt everybody where it would hurt. Surely Nebraska does not want that. And it would hurt property owners as well as real estate.

If anything should be taxed, it should be alcoholic beverages, cigarettes, horse-racing and the fur coat industry. All of these could be termed luxuries.

MRS. RAY ZERNECHEL

The Men And Boys

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Many students are going to other states to finish their education. Why? Because their advisers tell them they have a classroom shortage and want only students with high averages. Those students with medium averages and passing grades are not forced to leave but are encouraged to do so.

Common talk on the campus is that they are weeding the men from the boys. Many of the GI students feel they are men, having given from two to seven years of their life to serve and protect our country, and they feel also there must be a university somewhere in the country where they can finish their education.

FRIEND OF AMERICAN STUDENTS

Pay Or Stay

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Proponents of the multi-million-dollar sales tax, whoever and wherever they are in Nebraska, were set back on their haunches by a group of state senators wisely conservative and dedicated to the best interests of all the people. Our victory should be celebrated by legislative resolution, plus a day off for appropriate rejoicing.

In these days of publicized prosperity, with money allegedly flowing more freely than water, we should have reduced taxes, not additional taxes. The proposed bread-and-butter tax as concocted by the multi-million-dollar spender would have been a daily penalty on the necessities of life. We should either pay as we go, as practiced in the building of the fabulous state Capitol, or else stay at home.

LEO N. BARTUNEK

From White To Black

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: When we were young, we were counted "one of the gang." We were citizens of Nebraska then, and most of us were highly thought of. We paid our taxes when due, we helped those in distress when called on—we even helped to make Nebraska what it is. We had our part in the "White Spot," but now underneath that white, there is a blemish that is becoming quite black. I mean the old age assistance program. And that is where the old settlers of this fair state are put to eke out the balance of their lives.

For many reasons—sickness, drought, bad fortune and what-not—we were not able to lay by a nest-egg for our old age. In the early days we didn't have Uncle Sam to come to the rescue like the people of Nebraska do today. When any sort of misfortune hits the state now, the first thought is to send someone to Washington to ask for aid.

When the old age assistance act was first put into effect, there was a special fund to take care of it. But when the powers that be saw how the fund was piling up, it was somehow put into the general fund where they had easy access to it and where it could be used for nearly anything that came up—but not for the old people. In other words, it was a "vote-getter." But when Uncle Sam allots an increase to the aged of America, including Nebraska, the powers that be of this fair state say it cannot be allowed because Nebraska does not make allowance to grant the raise. Even our governor says he does not know anything about it, so the old people must do without until the law can be changed. It wouldn't have cost this state a dime, so how does the law have to be changed—how?

OLD AGE RECIPIENT

Polio Clinics

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The State Medical Association has again turned thumbs down on statewide mass polio clinics. They say they are now going to sponsor a program to overcome the apathy and neglect of the public. They may be correct about the apathy and neglect of the public, but the fact remains that the polio season grows nearer and nearer and a program of the type they propose takes time. So far the types of programs they have offered have met with limited success while the clinic and mass type inoculations have proven very successful.

There are many doctors who see the need for clinics and who have had the courage to speak in favor of them.

At any rate, it looks as if the children of neglectful parents will be the goats, with no immediate help from the State Medical Association in sight. The only material aid will be from those people who really care, and the best they will be able to do will be to buy wheel chairs.

JACK EASTBURN

Thank You

Christmas Plays Put Under Fire

NEW YORK — The Supreme Court one day may have to rule on whether it is unconstitutional for a public school to give visible notice at Christmas time to the nativity of Christ.

The school board of Sierra Madre, Calif., which with touching irony means "highest mother," voted last week to ban traditional Christmas plays for all Sierra Madre schools. The action was spurred by Mr. and Mrs. George D. Roane, of 145 Oak Meadow Road, Sierra Madre.

Christmas plays, they declared, tended toward "indoctrination of students" because "they were taught what to say, such programs violate 'the spirit of the Constitution.'" Mrs. Roane added.

There will be another meeting of the school board this coming Monday to consider the action already taken. PTA's are up in arms, generally. Methodist Bishop Gerald Kennedy of Los Angeles has jumped into the fray. Requests for rulings have gone to California State Attorney General Pat Brown.

In the meantime, public schools in Sierra Madre have as little room for Christ as did Bethlehem Inn.

A grandmother who reads this piece in the Detroit Times comments on the pains of official desegregation. "White children of my childhood played with, and went to school with, colored children. We played in each other's homes, and woe betide any white, or colored, child who was discourteous to adults of either race.

"We managed all this without do-gooders and politicians riding herd on us. We automatically respected the color line at a certain perimeter—i.e., where mingling might bring discomfort to either race."

Pictures of New York Architect Edward D. Stone's striking U.S. pavilion to be built for next year's Brussels Fair shakes a dusty but ever-pleasant memory of the great New York World Fair of nearly 20 years ago. I never drive past or fly over that area around Flushing, Long Island, without seeing again the trylon and perisphere (perisphere?), the playing fountains, the superb restaurants—French, Italian, Belgian, Russian—the great exhibitions... the dear, dead days. There's something about a fair...

Thirty-five million tourists are expected to troop through the U.S. pavilion at Brussels in '58. Work starts on it next month. It will be the largest free span circular building in the world. The two-story pavilion will measure 340 feet in diameter and 95 feet in height. An adjacent theater will seat 1,000.

The exhibition, covering six and a half acres, will sit between, and conveniently separate, the exhibits of the U.S.S.R. and the Vatican.

Most Legislators Believe Farmers Pay 'Fair' Taxes

Resolution Urging Minimum Spending Touches Off Tax-Share Debate

A majority of Nebraska legislators Thursday declared in effect, that farmers are not paying more than their fair share of taxes. Sales tax advocates have contended that they are.

The "declaration" was in the form of a 22-12 vote to delete this paragraph from a resolution: "That because of drought and other circumstances adversely affecting the agricultural cost-price relationship, Nebraska farmers are carrying more than their fair share of the state and local tax burden."

After sharp exchanges on that point, the Legislature adopted, 23-9, the resolution which urges tax spending bodies and governmental subdivisions to keep spending at a minimum during this drought period.

Overtones Although the tax base was not specifically the issue, debate on the resolution had overtones of the recent legislative battle which ended in defeat of a sales tax bill. A combination sales-income tax bill remains to be taken up by the Legislature.

Sen. Hans Jensen of Aurora, introduced the resolution, tried unsuccessfully to withdraw it and voted against adopting it in its final form.

"You have so completely butchered the meaning and thought"

SENATORS PASS BILL FOR HIGHER TAX LEVY LIMIT

The Unicameral Thursday passed 39-1 LB 264, increasing the mill levy limit on property taxes for county government.

The emergency clause was attached. Introducers of the bill were Sen. Dwain Williams of Broken Bow and Sen. Donald McGinley of Ogallala.

Also passed, with the emergency clause attached, was LB 103, revising fees charged by the state surveyor and his deputies under the Board of Educational Lands and Funds.

The vote was 35-2 on that bill, which was introduced by Sen. Williams and Sen. Fay Wood of Seward.

$150,000 Issue Goes On Ballot

HUMBOLDT, Neb. (AP)—Voters will go to the polls Tuesday to decide whether to issue $150,000 worth of municipal bonds to pipe water into town from four miles north to bolster the city's faltering water supply. The issue would provide funds to repay the city for money expended on a new well and supply pumping equipment and other adjuncts to the proposed 10-inch waterline.

that the resolution is of "absolutely no value," he said.

Sen. August Wagner of Columbus, during the debate, referred to reports that farmers are paying some 60 per cent of the state property tax.

Sen. Charles Tvrdik of Omaha, a leading sales tax opponent who took issue with the paragraph which later was deleted from the resolution, challenged that figure.

He said he checked and found that the value of all suburban property, including such items as pipelines outside cities, was included in the rural valuation, thus distorting it.

But Sen. Monroe Bixler of Harrison, chief introducer of the sales tax bill, maintained that suburban properties represent only one per cent of rural valuation.

At one point Sen. Wagner arose to dispute something Sen. Tvrdik was saying and both were speaking at once.

"Maybe if Sen. Wagner would stay in his seat for a while someone else would get a chance to talk," said Tvrdik.

Sixteen Bills Move Ahead

The Nebraska Legislature Thursday advanced 16 bills from general file in a burst of speed, after it finished lengthy debate on a resolution on spending and taxes.

Advancement from general file is the step which normally brings the most floor debate on any measure, but only relatively non-controversial bills were considered because members of the legislative committee hearing the Robertson case were absent.

Included in the bills advanced was LB 277, by Sen. David Tew, plugging a loophole in laws governing possession of liquor by minors in public places.

Approved also was a series of bills—LB's 186, 187, 188, 243 and 244—making changes in certain election laws, generally affecting more populous counties.

Other bills advanced from general file:

LB 175—Revising census report requirements of county school superintendent in the metropolitan city.

LB 226—Revising insurance laws.

LB 182—Providing for amendments to charters of public power and irrigation districts to cover power generation.

LB 282—Increasing the license fee for dentists from $25 to $50.

LB 303—Allowing a rural power district director to serve as director of a generation and transmission district.

LB 251—Reducing the amount of capital and surplus needed to organize a title insurance company in Nebraska.

LB 95—Reducing the length of leases on saline lands.

Georgia Senate Asks Impeachment Action On Six Supreme Court Justices

ATLANTA — The Georgia Senate Thursday adopted a resolution to impeach six members of the Supreme Court of the United States for their racial decisions but the action got little support from the state's congressional delegation in Washington.

The measure passed 37-11 after being denounced as "ridiculous" and a "bit of tomfoolery" during a hot floor debate.

The resolution, sent back to the House for approval of an amendment which deleted one "undocumented" section, charges Chief Justice Warren and Justices Black, Douglas, Reed, Frankfurter and Clark with "high crimes and misdemeanors."

The resolution asks Georgia's congressional delegation to institute the impeachment proceedings.

But in Washington, Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.) said he will not introduce or vote for the resolution.

"The decision on the school question does not constitute high crimes and misdemeanors by the Supreme Court," Vinson said. "Therefore, I am not introducing a resolution of impeachment nor am I voting for a resolution of impeachment."

Several members of the all-Democratic Georgia delegation declined comment, but others said off-the-record they doubted such a resolution would ever be introduced in the House.

By law, such resolutions come up in the House. If the House votes impeachment, the trials are held in the Senate.

Sen. Talmage said without amplification: "My policy is to give due consideration to all petitions and resolutions directed to me by the elected representatives of the people of Georgia."

Administration floor leader Peyton Hawes praised the resolution on the state Senate floor as a weapon in Georgia's fight for sovereignty.

"Only Way"

Earlier, he had said "we're not going to impeach anybody, but this is the state of Georgia's only way to bring this to light."

"It's not going to turn the world upside down," Hawes added. "But with it we say to these Supreme Court justices, 'we read your decisions and our blood boiled.'"

Sens. Fred Bentley of Marietta and Bobby Lee Cook of Summerville, who were defeated in an attempt to soften "impeachment" to "censure," were outspoken against the resolution.

Bentley said passage would "make us the laughing stock and that's unfortunate." He said it would destroy the goodwill created by "Georgia's adamant stand on segregation." He added that the action was a "bit of tomfoolery."

"I would be the first to want to change the Supreme Court's decisions," he said, "but impeachment is not the answer."

He said the general assembly already has declared the 14th and 15th amendments to the U.S. Constitution null and void.

"And now," he said, "we turn around and ask impeachment under the same amendments. And that is going to make us look ridiculous."

The constitutional amendments deal with citizenship and equal rights. Both branches of the Georgia legislature declared them null adopted by "improperly constituted" Congresses which excluded Southern states.

Cook said the resolution would "irreparable damage no only to the state but to the nation."

State Legislature Revives Historical Landmark Bill

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

A bill providing for a commission on historical landmarks was revived Thursday by the Legislature. It had been killed 4-3 in committee last week.

Sen. Don McGinley of Ogallala, principal introducer of LB 330, won his appeal to bring up the measure by a 23-13 vote. There was no vocal opposition.

Sen. McGinley said the bill was "inadvertently" killed by the Miscellaneous Subjects Committee and that it was "a minor matter among the session bills."

"Basically," McGinley said, "I am in favor of the idea" of setting up "some type of commission" to designate sites for historical markers. The senator said he realized that bills calling for establishing commissions "scatter the daylight out of most of you."

"Sifting Committee"

A probable amendment to the measure, the senator said, could be one establishing a "sifting committee" composed of the Historical Society director, state engineer and Resources Division personnel.

This unit would determine which sites were worthy of historical markers and what kind of markers would be adequate.

McGinley told the legislators that $1,400 was left over from the Centennial Commission for use in the markers program and this money could be matched at the community level.

Less Than $200

"The program could go ahead by gifts and community help," McGinley noted, adding that suitable signs could cost less than $200 apiece.

The senator suggested a "comprehensive committee approach" to the markers program.

Another signer of the bill, Sen. Ray Simmons of Fremont, told the senators "we could really collect a gold mine with tourists" attracted by the marker signs. The bill, he said, doesn't call for any appropriations.

Sen. Kathleen Foote, the third introducer, urged calling the bill up to the floor in order to avoid

Sandra Ott Wins Contest With Essay

Sandra Ott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jhon Ott of 2718 So. 33rd, is the first place winner in the annual essay contest sponsored by the Mayor's Committee For Employment Of The Physically Handicapped.

She is a student at Lincoln High and will receive a $100 award. Her's and the other three winning Lincoln essays will be entered in the state contest.

One state winner will compete in the national contest for prizes ranging from $1,000 for first place to $100 for fifth place. The essays are all written on the title of "Employment of the Handicapped—A Community Responsibility."

Other Lincoln winners and their awards:

Second: Guillian Trevelyan Moore, an exchange student from New Zealand attending Southeast High and living with Mr. and Mrs. Robertson W. Jackson, 2905 Georgian Ct., $50.

Third: Donald DeMars, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver DeMars of 2324 So. 18th and a student at Pius X High, $25.

Fourth: Marilyn Schlaphoff, daughter of Mrm and Mrs. John Schlaphoff of 3434 So. 30th and a student at Lincoln High, $25.

Awards are to be presented by Mayor Bennett Martin at a 9 a.m. program Friday at the Lincoln High auditorium.

Cost Of Living Reaches Fifth Straight Record

... Upward Trend Likely To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs hit a new record high in January for the fifth straight month, the government reported Thursday. It said the trend still points upward.

Factory workers' earnings also reached records levels for a January.

The Labor Department index of consumer prices climbed two tenths of 1 per cent from December to January, to 118.2 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This means it costs $11.82 to buy what could be gotten for a $10 bill in the 1947-49 era.

The latest living cost boost means 1,400,000 workers in the auto, aircraft, farm equipment and various other industries will get a penny-an-hour pay increase, according to automatic inflation-adjusted labor contracts.

Food Up 3.3%

The January living cost level is 3.1 per cent higher than a year earlier. Food alone is 3.3 per cent higher than in January, 1956.

Slight January declines in overall food and clothing costs were more than overbalanced by higher costs for housing, transportation, medical care and various goods and services, including fuel oil and other home heating fuels.

The Labor Department also reported that factory workers' spendable earnings—total pay less tax deductions—reached a January record. Average weekly earnings were $74.99 for the worker with three dependents, $67.58 for a single worker. Both figures were down about $1.50 below December levels because of somewhat shorter working hours and a boost in social security taxes.

Accident Charge Brings Archduke Suspended Term

VIENNA Austria (AP)—Archduke Leopold of Hapsburg, 60, now an American citizen, was given a suspended three-month jail term by a Vienna court Thursday for causing a traffic accident here.

The Archduke was acquitted of a charge that he was intoxicated when the accident occurred.

He told the court he drank only two bottles of beer to wash down some sausage for breakfast and less than half a liter of wine to accompany his lunch.

"In America, I have been driving safely, even after drinking two liters of wine," the archduke told the court. A liter is just over a quart.

The judge replied: "They must have lighter alcohol over there."

Well Drillers Elect Elijah As President

Harold B. Elijah of North Bend was elected president of the Nebraska Well Drillers Association Thursday.

Vince H. Dreeszen is secretary and Charles K. Hedges, treasurer. Both are from Lincoln. New directors are Charles Condon of Aurora and Dale Veatch of Fairbury.

The association's two-day meeting at the State Fair Grounds will close Friday, after a board of directors meeting in the afternoon. In the morning, the speakers will be: V. H. Dreeszen of the University Conservation and Survey Division, "Developing Water Supplies in Difficult Areas."

R. L. Schreurs of St. Paul, Minn., "A Trickle of a Torrent." Orville DeFrain, acting director of the Division of Sanitation, Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Department, "Improving Upon Mother Nature's Water Supply."

Former Lincolnite Don G. Berry Dies; Symphony Founder

Don G. Berry, 61, one of the seven founders of the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra, died recently at his home in Pasadena, Calif.

A resident of Lincoln until 1936, when he moved to California, Mr. Berry was prominent in music circles in Lincoln for many years. He was a graduate of the University of Nebraska School of Music and later taught there.

He was also the first personnel director of the Lincoln Symphony. A leading trumpet player, Mr. Berry played with theater orchestras in Lincoln and was director of the 134th Infantry Band, serving overseas during World War I with the rank of lieutenant.

In partnership with Harry Ziegenbein, Mr. Berry was co-operator of the Berry & Ziegenbein Music Store in Lincoln from 1931 to 1936. After moving to California, he established a chain of music stores with headquarters in Pasadena.

Survivors include his wife and a daughter, Mary Lou.

Anderson Signs Bill For Construction Bids

Gov. Victor Anderson Thursday signed into law LB 55, a measure which would permit municipalities to advertise for single bids covering two or more construction projects.

Sens. John Aufenkamp of Julian and Dwain Williams of Broken Bow were the bill's principal introducers.

Robinson Seed Stock Transfer Is Ruled Illegal

OMAHA (AP)—District Judge James M. Patton ruled an April, 1956, transfer of 150 shares of J. C. Robinson Seed Co. stock to the Funk Brothers Co. was illegal.

James Arleigh Batson, stockholder in the Robinson firm, protested the transfer. He contended it was a move by other stockholders to deprive him of gaining control of the concern when he inherits his grandmother's stock.

Judge Patton, in a memorandum, agreed with Batson's position. The court said the 150 shares in question had been purchased from a company officer and held by the company itself without being used for voting purposes for a number of years prior to the transfer. Robinson's is a Waterloo, Neb., firm.

JET HITS SCHOOL GARAGE

... 2 Lose Lives

HERTFORD, N.C. (AP)—A Navy jet fighter whizzed past a crowded high school building minutes before the morning recess Thursday and crashed into an adjacent garage, killing one workman.

The body of the pilot was found hours later on a field some distance from the crash scene.

The pilot earlier was identified by the Navy as Ens. William W. Bell, the husband of Mrs. Avalon Bell of Oceana, Va. His father, Lloyd W. Bell, lives at Longton, Kan.

Navy officials said they believed the plane was flying at a very high altitude and was far from the crash scene when the pilot was forced to bail out. Eyewitnesses said the plane was trailing smoke when it fell, apparently afire.

Burns Are Fatal

J. Van Roach, 56, a mechanic who was working in the school garage, died Thursday night from burns. His mechanic partner, James Preston Morgan, 26, was critically burned.

No school children were injured. School Principal E. C. Woodard said, "if this had happened at the same time yesterday, or tomorrow, the children would have been out on the ball field taking physical education."

The plane crashed some 300 yards from the school building proper, after strewn wreckage across the baseball field.

Long, Active Life

BROCKVILLE, Ont. (AP)—The Brockville Recorder, Ontario's oldest weekly newspaper, closes Friday. For 136 years, the Recorder has outlasted seven rivals. Its publisher, Mrs. F. B. MacLean, said it is yielding before rising costs and dwindling circulation.

Yungblut Funds To Sponsor Camp Session For Adult

A Boy Scout adult leader will be sent to summer training sessions at Philmont Ranch, Cimarron, N.M., with funds from the Yungblut Memorial Fund.

Establishment of a Woodhatch scholarship for that purpose was announced by the executive board of the Cornhusker Council. The fund was accumulated in memory of the late Cornhusker Council commissioner, Dr. Don C. Youngblut of Lincoln.

In other action the council board set the site of this year's Council Circus at the new Perching Municipal Auditorium. The event will be sponsored by the Lincoln Exchange Club and is scheduled for sometime in May.

The board also reported that 80 Boy Scouts from this area have registered to attend the National Boy Scout Jamboree in Valley Forge, Pa., this summer.

GRAND JURY INQUIRY OF SALK PRICE SEEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Justice Department inquiry into the pricing of Salk Polio vaccine may be taken before a grand jury shortly, Asst. Atty. Gen. Victor R. Hansen said Thursday.

In response to an inquiry on the status of the investigation, the chief of the department's anti-trust division said "we possibly will go before a grand jury soon." He declined to elaborate.

"an appeal to stupidity"

thus does the United States Supreme Court label stamp plans and gives The States power to outlaw them.

The Kiplinger Magazine "Changing Times" advises "if you think the lust for stamps is getting the best of your shopping budget, resist. Tear up the stamp book. You will be better off to buy that premium for cash—not stamps—on the line."

The U.S. Dept. of Commerce makes this comment—"If trading stamps fail to produce added business it is difficult and sometimes costly to discontinue—the retailer may find that 'getting out' is much more difficult than 'getting in'."

The U.S. Dept. of Commerce warns that "stores using trading stamps must do 25% more business or hike their prices." There is no magic that can increase the consuming capacity of a community. Eventually prices are boosted.

POSTCARD

Vera Cruz is a tropical seaport town. "The Rich City of the True Cross," Cortez named it. He went up the coast later because of the plague of mosquitoes. It was the entry point from Spain. Scott's American troops went ashore here in 1847. And the port was known for its summers of yellow fever.

The road from Cordoba enters through a graveyard. It was Sunday and lively on the little plaza. I bought a dark Orizaba beer and a little crab, re-stuffed with shredded crab meat, raisins and herbs.

A bus driver said the dirt coastal road north to Tecolutla was "very ugly." I should take the highway, the old Cortez route to Jalapa. It was Sunday as I said. And on Sunday, the locals go to church. After church they drink pulque. And by nightfall the road is filled with staggering, white-pajamaed Indians.

They get good-natured, staggering. It is a traffic hazard.

The road climbs high to little Indian Perote. The Spaniards built a great fort across the road in 1770. During the 1830s, several hundred Texans were imprisoned here after being marched down from El Paso.

It was high and chilly. The Indians were wrapped in serapes. And on the street corners, they sold blocks of crumbly sugar and coconut. A real quick shot of energy.

The road to Tecolutla on the coast turns south here. Winding down with foggy clouds lying across the road. Through Indian villages with juke boxes blaring out of pulque saloons where one glaring white light hangs from the ceiling. By the time it turned completely dark, I was on the moist coast land. Dodging Indians, burros and buses parked for no particular reason on the road.

I had swung around one bus and braked just in time. The bus was stopped for the very good reason that the road ran right off into water.

I went back and looked at the sign: "Ferry landing."

There was a small hut and I went in to talk it over.

The ferry, said the owner, ran every quarter of an hour.

"Does it run every quarter hour at this time?"

"Ah, who knows? The last one came an hour ago."

Fortunately, the quarter-of-an-hour ferry decided to come over and pick up some business. And we all drove aboard. The big tropical moon coming down through a milky sky. And we backed off into the little dirt main street of Tecolutla and got to the hotel on the beach just in time for dinner. (McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Bill Forming Residential Schools For Mentally Retarded Children Is Held

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature's Education Committee Thursday held for LB 364, a measure creating residential schools for mentally retarded children, and advanced to general file LB 166, a bill dealing with special education for mentally gifted children.

The committee, headed by Sen. Don Thompson of McCook, held a public hearing on LB 364, which proponents described as permissive legislation making possible the establishment of a pilot project school and appropriating funds for it.

Mrs. L. A. Enersen of Lincoln, president of the Lancaster Association for Retarded Children (LARC), said the association estimates such a two-year project would cost $25,000 in state funds. She explained this figure was made on the basis of an anticipated enrollment of 30 students.

Mrs. Enersen said $12,000 of the total would be applied from the state's payment of $200 per year per pupil, $8,000 would be for establishment and remodeling of a building and $5,000 would go for contingencies and other expenses.

Parents of each pupil would pay $50 a month tuition for a nine-month school year to help defray the cost, she said.

Mrs. Enersen said, "We know this is the year when we are pinched for funds," but suggested the committee consider carefully that the state already is allowing up to $200 per child for educable mentally retarded children.

Ray Taylor of Lincoln, president of the Nebraska State Association for Retarded Children, said LB 364, as written, would permit a child to return to his home on week ends and through the summer months.

Permitting the child to be at home this frequently would give the child and his family a chance to become a more integrated unit, he explained.

Taylor suggested passage of LB 364 would help to relieve the load on the Beatrice Home for Children, which he said has a waiting list and cannot serve all the needy children of the state.

Robert Peery of Lincoln, counsel for the NSARC, suggested the bill be amended to put such a school under the supervision of the Board of Control rather than under three departments — Board of Control, State Department of Education and Department of Welfare — as it is now written.

'Not Much Need'

Dr. Floye Alcorn of Lincoln, superintendent of the Nebraska Orthopedic Hospital, told the committee he did not believe there was too much need for such a school and suggested that $25,000 was not sufficient to establish such a school.

Sen. Thompson appointed Sen. Norman Otto of Kearney, principal introducer of the bill, to study the measure and see if it could be made workable.

Before advancing LB 166, the committee struck out provisions for appropriations connected with mentally gifted children and made it simply permissive legislation.

The bill was advanced by a vote of 4-0, with three members of the committee absent.

Senators Kill Amusement Tax Measure

The Legislature's Revenue Committee Thursday killed Sen. Terry Carpenter's proposed amusement tax by a 4-0 vote.

The measure, LB 15, would have levied a state tax of five cents on each admission costing 50 cents and over.

Amusement industry representatives turned out in force to oppose the bill at a public hearing more than two weeks ago. The committee had been holding the bill since the hearing without action.

New Revenue Sources

Carpenter told the committee at the hearing he was merely seeking new sources of revenue to keep property taxes down.

Theater men said the tax would just about annihilate an industry already suffering from television's competition.

Acting also on another bill heard earlier, the Revenue Committee amended and advanced to the floor a bill, LB 380, designed to strengthen tax laws so that property owners such as farmers can't sell out and move away just prior to the Nov. 1 due date on property taxes and thus escape paying the taxes.

The measure was introduced by Sens. John Donner of Elgin and Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City.

Hear MUD Bill

The committee Thursday gave public hearing to LB 298, which would reduce from three mills to one mill the property tax levy limit allowed Omaha's Metropolitan Utilities District (MUD). No action was taken on the bill.

George Pardee, MUD representative, objected to the bill. He said it is unnecessary because MUD never has used the legal limit allowed anyway. Enactment of the bill would only infer a lack of confidence in MUD directors, he declared.

Sen. George Syas of Omaha, the introducer, appeared for the bill.

4 Witnesses Appear At Mitchell Meet

Four witnesses appeared Thursday at hearings held before the University of Nebraska committee on academic privileges on charges made by Dr. C. Clyde Mitchell.

Dr. Mitchell, former professor and chairman of the department of agricultural economics, claimed that certain administrative officials of the University had threatened his academic freedom and that he was removed as chairman because of outside pressures.

Those appearing were:

Dr. Howard Ottoson, chairman of the department of agricultural economics.

Dr. Ernest Feder, associate professor of agricultural economics.

Bruce Bruggmann of Rock Rapids, Ia., senior who was editor of the student newspaper, The Nebraskan, at the time of the announcement of Dr. Mitchell's removal as chairman in April, 1956.

Sam Jensen of Grand Island, senior who was a member of the Nebraskan staff in the spring of 1956.

The committee also questioned Dean W. V. Lambert of the College of Agriculture, who had appeared at the committee's earlier hearing Feb. 9.

Committee Chairman David Dow said another hearing is contemplated but probably not until the latter part of March.

MISS BETTY BRANCH

Announcement is being made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Branch of Omaha of the betrothal of their daughter, Betty, to William E. Henkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Giles C. Henkle. The wedding will be an event of June.

A senior at the University of Nebraska, the bride-elect is a member of Pi Beta Phi, of which she has served as president.

Mr. Henkle is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

We Hear That

Dr. and Mrs. John W. Bengtson are the parents of a son born on Friday, Feb. 15, at Bryan Memorial Hospital. The baby has been named Steven Nelson Bengtson. Steven has three brothers, Peter, Erik, and Carl, and his paternal grandmother is Mrs. John E. Bengtson of Albion.

BETROTHAL REVEALED

MISS BARBARA JEAN RUBACK

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer L. Ruback of Omaha have announced the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Jean, to Marshall B. Kushner, son of Mrs. Max Kushner. Plans are being made for a June wedding. The bride-to-be has attended the University of Texas, Austin, Tex., and the University of Indiana, Bloomington, Ind.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, Mr. Kushner is a member of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi and Omicron Epsilon Pi honoraries, and served as secretary of Kosmet Klub.

WHAT WE like is a surprise—a nice, newsy one, naturally—and this is the morning we have one. A telephone call brought the news that the marriage of Ruth White Wilms, daughter of Mrs. Wilfred White of Helena, Ark., to Robert Harrison of Omaha, son of Mrs. Robert H. Harrison of Creston, Ia., formerly of Lincoln, and the late Mr. Harrison, took place on Thursday, Feb. 14, in Chicago. The ceremony was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Harrison's son-in-law and

Cornhusker Club Program

Miss Mary Hinds was toastmistress Monday evening at the dinner-meeting of the Cornhusker Toastmistress Club, held at the Capital Hotel.

Speakers for the evening were Mrs. Kenneth W. McGinnis, "Are They Delinquents?"; Mrs. Carl Hartman, "Where Can We Turn?"; and Mrs. John Mattox, "A Dream".

Topic mistress during the dinner was Mrs. W. Howard Kirtley, and giving extemporaneous talks on the topic, "How I Would Like To Spend My Sunday", were Mrs. Hartman, Mrs. Evelyn Gilson and Miss Mary McCrory.

Mrs. J. Howard Walters served as evaluator, Mrs. Carl Hoffman as lexicologist, and Mrs. P. D. Stieberger as timekeeper. Guests of the club were Mrs. Betty Blackburn, Mrs. Harry P. Gaylor and Mrs. Virginia Hansen.

daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Barr McCutcheon (he is the son of the famous illustrator), with only members of the family attending.

Mrs. Willard A. White was the matron of honor and only attendant, and John R. Montgomery served his cousin as best man.

Following the reception to which a small group of guests was invited, Mr. Harrison and his bride left for a southern honeymoon trip after which they will reside in Omaha.

Mrs. Robert H. Harrison is spending the winter in California, the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bernarr Wilson in Piedmont, and did not attend the ceremony, but included among members of the family was Mrs. James Harsh, the former Barbara Harrison, of Creston, Ia.

HEAR that Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Baird are saying goodbye to Lincoln next Wednesday and moving to Beatrice where their address will be 1201 Washington. Both Mr. and Mrs. Baird have been active in affairs at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Episcopal, where Mr. Baird has been organist during a period of years, and where Mrs. Baird has been director of the choir.

ANOTHER chapter which involves the Bairds' departure from Lincoln, has to do with

Mr. and Mrs. John Bentley who have purchased the Baird home at 2641 Rathbone Rd.

THERE will be dining and dancing this evening for the members of the Faculty Dancing Club, and the plans are for something different—Usually the Faculty Dancing Club members dine and dance at Student Union, but this evening only half the party—the dinner—is to be at the Union—and the dancing, which will begin at 8:30 o'clock, will be at the Selbeck Quadrangle. Guest couples at the 6:45 o'clock dinner, and the dancing, will be Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kreissman and Capt. and Mrs. C. L. Pratt.

In charge of the party plans is a committee composed of

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Goodding, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Milo Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Farley, Mr. and Mrs. Victor H. Petersen, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bruce Winter, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Young, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Holland and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stemm.

WHEN Mrs. Frederick W. Webster and Mrs. Arthur S. North entertained at a coffee on Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. Webster, it was to honor two out of town guests—Mrs. Forrest Meyers of Long Beach, Calif., who is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. Claude S. Wilson—and Miss Della Clough of Alhambra, Calif., who is visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Muschel.

WEDDING TOMORROW

MISS GLENNA BERRY AND FIANCE

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Glenna Berry to Martin Luschei, son of Mrs. Erich Luschei and the late Mr. Luschei, is being announced this morning by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Berry of Onawa, Ia.

The wedding will take place on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 23, and the 3 o'clock service will be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents in Onawa. The Rev. Harold C. Sandall, minister of Grace Methodist Church in Lincoln, will read the lines of the ceremony in the presence of members of the immediate families.

Miss Connie Berry will be the maid of honor and her sister's only attendant, and serving Mr. Luschei as best man will be Frank Ross of Omaha.

Later in the afternoon, Mr. Luschei and his bride will leave for a short wedding trip to the Black Hills before departing early in March for Santiago, Chile, where they will reside.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, where she is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, Mortar Board honorary for senior women, and Phi Beta Kappa national scholastic honorary, the bride-elect will study at the University of Chile on a Fulbright Scholarship. She also is the recipient of the national Pi Beta Phi graduate fellowship.

Mr. Luschei is a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University and a member of Blue Key senior men's honorary and of Phi Kappa Phi national scholastic society. Following service with the Armed Forces in Japan, he completed graduate study in International Relations at Geneva, Switzerland, as the recipient of an International Rotary fellowship, and will be a faculty member at Santiago, Chile.

MRS. ROBERT JOHN BERGHEL

White candles burning in seven-branched candelabra against a background of greenery appointed the Lutheran Chapel on the University of Nebraska campus Thursday evening, Feb. 21, for the wedding of Miss Mary Louise Pittack, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. O. F. Pittack of Hawarden, Ia., and Robert John Berghel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar H. Berghel of Omaha. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Mr. Pittack, father of the bride, and Miss Janet Danielson, organist, played the wedding music. Miss Danielson also accompanied the vocal soloist, Wesley A. Pittack of Lincoln, brother of the bride.

As the maid of honor and bride's only attendant, Miss Beth Keenan of Kearney, wore an afternoon frock of pink lace over taffeta fashioned with a snug bodice and full skirt. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and pink-tinted lemon leaves.

Roger Sack of Omaha served Mr. Berghel as best man, and seating the guests were Kris Nelson of Central City, and Charles Decker of Omaha.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white imported lace smoothed over taffeta and designed in the after-five length. A rounded decolletage and abbreviated sleeves accented the fitted bodice, and the Empire waist was emphasized by a band of taffeta which was draped at the back to form a wide panel extending to the hem of the circular skirt. Her Juliet cap of lace was veiled with illusion, and she carried a cascade of white feathered carnations interspersed with frosted lemon leaf foliage.

Mr. Berghel will report for duty with the Armed Forces early in March at Hawaii, where he will be joined by Mrs. Berghel following her graduation from the University of Nebraska in June. A member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, the bride is vice president of Alpha Epsilon Rho and president of the Panhellenic Association. Mr. Berghel is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Will Entertain At Buffet Party

Preceding the Lincoln Garrison Ball at Turnpike this evening, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Warren E. Baker will be host and hostess to the members of the staff of the 195th Tank Battalion, Nebraska National Guard, and their wives at a buffet supper at Hotel Cornhusker.

In addition to the Battalion Staff, the guests will include Capt. and Mrs. Lyle L. Davis of Hebron, Capt. and Mrs. Marvin Norton of Lexington, and Lt. and Mrs. Louis P. Barry of Kearney.

Lincoln guests will be Capt. and Mrs. John Leonhardt, Capt. and Mrs. Milton L. Ward, Capt. and Mrs. Robert A. Wittstruck, Lt. and Mrs. Malcolm Hardin, CWO and Mrs. Albert H. Arms, CWO and Mrs. Roland G. Badberg and CWO and Mrs. Harold Coleman.

A JUNE BRIDE-ELECT

MISS HARRIET HULTQUIST

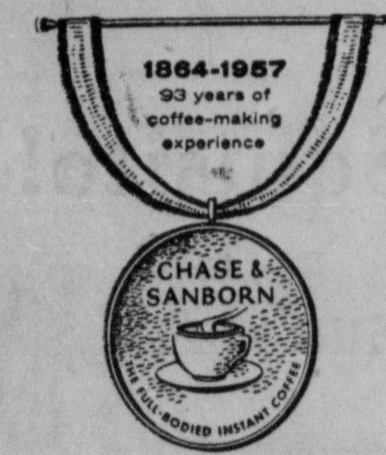

This morning Mrs. Arthur Hultquist of Stromsburg makes announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Harriet, to Robert K. Fenster, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Fenster of Broken Bow.

A June wedding is planned. Miss Hultquist, a graduate of Luther College, Wahoo, also attended the University of Nebraska, and now is a member of the Lincoln public schools faculty.

Mr. Fenster will be graduated in June from the University of Nebraska College of Dentistry where he is a member of Xi Psi Phi Fraternity.

We'll wager that not even the most rabid football fans can give any more statistics on wins and losses than the wives of the coaches, but Mrs. John Landry, wife of Nebraska's new assistant coach, has had only one season's experience. She has been the wife of a coach for little more than a year. Mr. and Mrs. Landry were married in January of 1956. The Landrys arrived in Lincoln on Tuesday evening and now are indulging in the pastime of all newcomers—househunting.

Suburbia

Well, just in case you all are wondering what the residents out in Kessler Heights and South Hills are doing these days, and since there is no better way to learn of their activity than to join us on our weekly trek through the suburban districts, let's be on our way. All residents seem to be in full-swing and why shouldn't they be? The answer is very obvious when you stop to visualize the picture of gaiety which shows neighbors in the midst of coffees, bridge parties, guests and vacations.

Vacations seem to highlight the events in Kessler Heights, but Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Aeschliman and their three children, Carole, Mary and Kathy think it is just as much fun to stay home and to await the arrival of a guest. Heard that Mr. Aeschliman's mother, Mrs. Robert Aeschliman, will join her grandchildren and their parents on Friday for a week end visit. Mrs. Aeschliman is from Wichita, Kans.

SOUTH HILLS

The week end beginning Friday, Feb. 8, was very special for Mr. and Mrs. Vern Walker, for they celebrated their wedding anniversary by taking a trip to Chicago, Ill. The Walker two-some spent the week end vacationing and visiting relatives and friends.

In farewell courtesy to Mrs. Herman Harding, Mrs. Vaughan Stevens and Mrs. Robert Schmoor recently were hostesses to neighborhood friends at the Schmoor home. Present besides Mrs. Harding were Mrs. Alan Transue, Mrs. Robert Buckley, Mrs. Lyle Knight, Mrs. Chris Overgaard and Mrs. Milton Hagelberger. Mr. and Mrs. Harding left Saturday for their new home in St. Paul, Minn.

A new resident in South Hills is Miss Susan Diane Lienemann, who arrived at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Monday, Feb. 18. Susan and her sister, Cindy, are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lienemann.

Extension Clubs Meet

Mrs. Gordon Ostlund was hostess last Thursday afternoon to the members of the Jolly Thursday Homemakers Extension Club. Following a dessert luncheon, the 10 members heard a program on "Refinishing Furniture" by Mrs. Ostlund and Mrs. Charles Svara. The group contributed to the extension club project, Pennies For Friendship.

When Mrs. Harvey Smith was honored at a surprise birthday party last Sunday evening, she and the guests were entertained by the host, Mr. Smith. Four couples were present for the informal evening of visiting and cards.

A hostess on Tuesday evening will be Mrs. Marvin Garber who will entertain the members of the Holly Road Bridge Club at her home. Included in the bridge eightsome are, in addition to Mrs. Garber, Mrs. Don Hamilton, Mrs. Philip James, Mrs. James Peerman, Mrs. Price May, Mrs. George Holdren, Mrs. John Minick and Mrs. Bob George.

Celebrating her first birthday anniversary on Friday, Feb. 15, was the petite Coleen Heelan, and in honor of the event the family, including Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Heelan, Kevin and Kim, had a special birthday dinner.

Mrs. Jerry Eickmeier was hostess last Tuesday afternoon at her home to the members of the Lookout Extension Club. Guests of the club were Mrs. Wilbur Hassenplug, Mrs. Allen Pokorny and Mrs. Earl Welch. The second lesson on, "Refinishing Furniture", was given by Mrs. Emma Burcham and Mrs. Rolie Burcham.

Basilio Is 13-5 Favorite Against Hit-And-Run Saxton

By JACK HAND
CLEVELAND (AP) — Carmen Basilio, one of the most popular modern era champions, rules a solid 13 to 5 favorite to whip Johnny Saxton, a hit-and-run artist, Friday night in defense of his World Welterweight title at the Cleveland Arena.

The third meeting between these contrasting 147-pounders is expected to draw a crowd of 9,000 and a gross gate of "over $100,000" according to Larry Atkins, co-promoter with the International Boxing Club.

Each fighter gets 30 per cent of the gross gate and the $60,000 radio-TV fee for the 15-round match that will be carried on network (NBC) radio and television. However, Cleveland and the surrounding area for a 100-mile radius will be blacked out on TV in keeping with the usual custom.

Basilio claims the damaged right hand that forced postponement from the original Jan. 18 date has completely healed. In any event, the champ's best punch is a solid left hook for he is a converted southpaw.

In fight No. 1 of this "series" March 14 at Chicago Stadium.

Saxton used all his boxing skills to gain a unanimous but widely hooded decision. The New Yorker moved backward until he found an opening for quick counter left hooks against his ever-charging opponent. It was the second time Saxton had won the title.

Basilio, who admitted he was below par at Chicago due to the flu bug, won back his crown Sept. 12 at Syracuse, N. Y. with a deadly punching barrage. In fight No. 2 Saxton tried to slug it out with Basilio in the first two rounds, discarding the style that convinced the officials at Chicago, and wound up a battered and bloody victim of a technical knockout in 1:31 of the ninth round.

"I tried to fight the fans' fight," he explained in his dressing room. "They don't want you to run."

Saxton insists he won't make the same mistake again. "I don't care what the papers or the fans say about running, I want that title back," he said Thursday. "I'm going to box him this time. If they want to box him this time, I've got to think about Johnny Saxton."

In the 9th September match, Saxton suffered a bad cut inside his mouth and was reeling around the ring, clutching glassy-eyed at the ropes when referee Al Berli stopped it. All three ring officials had scored the match 7-1 through the first eight rounds.

Basilio says he is "ready for anything" from Saxton and figures he can beat him whether he runs or makes a stand. The 29-year-old champ from Canastota, N. Y. claims he is in better condition than in September. That seems impossible, for he was his peak effort.

This observer came away from the Syracuse match firmly convinced that Basilio would beat Saxton every time they fought from now on. There is no reason to change that opinion now. Basilio is the pick in 10 rounds.

If it goes 15 rounds, the decision will be based on the "must five" point system with a referee and two judges scoring. The winner of a round gets five points and the loser four, three and so on. Total points determine the winner on each card.

Chairman Dave Ott of the Cleveland Boxing Commission ruled out Basilio's request to use six-ounce gloves as at Chicago and Syracuse so the fighters will wear eight-ounce gloves. The automatic eight-count and three knockdown rule have been waived for the title bout.

Cleveland hasn't had a championship match in 10 years since the ill-fated welter bout June 24, 1947 when Sugar Ray Robinson knocked out Jimmy Doyle. The loser died of the effects of that scrap. If the gate reaches expectations it will be Cleveland's best since a Max Schmeling-Young Stribling heavyweight title bout drew $349,000 in 1931.

Basilio first won the championship June 10, 1955 by knocking out Tony DeMarco. He lost it to Saxton last March and won it for the second time in September. Saxton originally grabbed the crown from Kid Gavilan on another disputed decision, Oct. 20, 1954. He lost it to DeMarco and took it back from Basilio.

Active since 1948, Basilio has fought 68 bouts for a 49-12-7 record. Saxton, 26, has had 60 fights since he left the Golden Gloves in 1949 and has a 53-5-2 record. Basilio has stopped 23 opponents, Saxton 21. The current champ never has been stopped while Saxton failed to finish twice against DeMarco and Basilio. Neither has fought since September—a 5½-month layoff.

QUAIL CASE HEARING ENDS

Robertson Testifies He Did Not Shoot From Road

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Members of the special legislative committee wound up their public probe of the Don Robertson road-shooting case late Thursday afternoon and will now prepare a report for the full Legislature.

The celebrated case involving Game Commissioner Robertson's alleged nabbing of a game bird from a road on Nov. 11, 1955 didn't wind up in a blaze of quail feathers. Thursday's action was devoted to hearing from several more witnesses, including Robertson for the first time, and the closing statements of Robertson's attorney, George Dent of North Platte, and counsels for Game Wardens Harland Huppert of Falls City and Bill Cunningham of Lincoln, Joe Vosoba and Alan Steinacher of Wilber.

In essence, Dent told the committee that charges were filed against Robertson because of "prejudice within the department," and because Paul Gilbert—"the key witness"—was no longer alive.

Steinacher delivered the main summation for the warden and stated that it was his opinion, after becoming familiar with the case, the committee "should be investigating the Game Commission instead of the three points" outlined in the solons' probe plan.

He denied any prejudice was involved. Vosoba made a plea to the committee to "protect these two conscientious and courageous officers from reprisals (loss of jobs) for their part in the hearing."

Following the final arguments, Chairman Don McGinley of Ogallala said the committee would not take up the case until next week and he did not rule out the possibility of further investigation.

Most committee members believed a report to the Legislature would probably be ready sometime next week. Other senators on the committee are Ray Simmons of Fremont, Charles Tvrdek of Omaha, Fred Waggoner of Lincoln and Duane Williams of Broken Bow.

Thursday's testimony was highlighted by the appearance of Robertson on the stand.

The North Platte hotel manager testified, "I did not shoot the quail from the road."

Robertson's version, which was contrary to that of Huppert who testified he saw Robertson shoot the bird from the road, was that he fired from a tree hedge alongside the road and then ran into the road to follow the flight of the quail.

"I was a good 10 to 15 feet off the hard surface of the road," he said. "I fired first and missed and then fired again and hit the bird. I didn't want to lose the bird so I ran onto the road to try to follow his flight."

Robertson said that to the best of his knowledge, Huppert was being "Continued on Page 18, Col. 4."

Oops! It's Soup!

A brief but violent downpour at Hialeah Park in Florida turned the track into a soupy mixture of mud and water but the field in the first race sloshed through numerous puddles to finish the race Thursday. Peaceful Solution, running second here under jockey Sammy Boulmetis, came out to win the six furlong dash in 1:15 1/5 while Melzar, shown first here, fell back to third. Fiddlin' Son, back in the pack, came out to finish second. The winner paid $4.50. (AP Wirephoto).

Dodgers Swap For LA Franchise, Could Move

By BOB GLASS
CHICAGO (INS)—The Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers announced Thursday an agreement for an exchange of minor league baseball franchises which may pave the way for the Dodgers to move to the west coast.

The deal was disclosed in a joint statement released in Chicago by owner P. K. Wrigley of the Cubs and President Walter O'Malley of the National League champions.

Subject to approval of the leagues involved, the Dodgers would take over the Cubs' Los Angeles Pacific Coast League franchise and Chicago would obtain Brooklyn's Fort Worth Texas League franchise.

Under the agreement, Brooklyn also would end a working agreement with Portland of the Pacific Coast League. The Portland connection would be assumed by the Cubs.

In Mesa, Ariz., spring training site of the Cubs, Wrigley said: "I would not agree to this deal unless I was confident it would help bring big league baseball to Los Angeles."

At a news conference in Vero Beach, Fla., O'Malley said he made the agreement for "protection." He said the Dodgers can play in Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, through 1959 or longer. He added: "We expect to play somewhere else in 1960 and we want absolute protection. In my opinion there will be major league baseball on the west coast in 1960."

Referring to the agreement for purchase of the Wrigley Field real estate in Los Angeles, O'Malley said: "It is sound to invest baseball dollars in baseball, which we are doing. We feel that the fact we have been able to gather these assets should prove to some people that we could build a new park in Brooklyn."

Aggies Upset Kansas On Late Jump Shot

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—The Oklahoma Aggies, long-noted for their defensive ability, upset the favored Kansas Jayhawks 56-54 Thursday night before 8,500 howling fans in Gallagher Hall.

With two seconds left in the pressure-packed game, Aggie captain Mel Wright pumped in a jump shot from the head of the circle for the victory. It was only the second time the Cowboys had been ahead all night. The Aggies held possession of the ball for more than three minutes preceding Wright's clincher.

Sophomore Arlen Clark, a 6-8 reserve, came off the bench in the second half to tame Wilt Chamberlain, Kansas's 7-foot sophomore center.

After Chamberlain had paced Kansas to a 32-26 halftime lead with 24 points, most of them on dunk shots, Clark slapped on the defensive irons, and Chamberlain scored only 8 points in the second half for a total of 32.

Kansas led by as much as 11 points early in the second half before the Aggies began to hit.

The Aggies tied it up for the first time with 11 minutes remaining at 44-44 on a long set shot by Eddie Sutton, who paced the Aggie scoring with 18 points.

The game was tied four more times after that with Clark hitting a short jump shot with 9:10 left to provide A&M with its first lead, 54-52.

Maurice King retaliated for the Kansas with a short one-hander to tie the game at 54-54 with 3:49 remaining.

The Aggies then began their methodical passing to hold the ball and the Kansas were reluctant to go after it because of the possibility of fouling.

Then with a minute left, the Jayhawks decided to scrap for the ball and with that maneuver Wright dribbled toward the foul circle with 8-seconds left and fouled away his all-important shot.

Lincoln Students To See Series Films

Students of Lincoln's junior and senior high schools will view films of the 1956 World Series between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Yankees.

The films, property of the Lincoln Chiefs, have been loaned to the Audio-Visual department for Lincoln public schools, under the direction of Mrs. Inez Hannan. The films will be shown at the schools during a three-week period.

Cage Scandal Could Be Brewing Again

DES MOINES (AP)—The Des Moines Register said Thursday night a new college basketball scandal involving an official instead of players could be brewing. At least two Iowa schools have received recent telephone calls from a man in Minneapolis asking whether a certain official was scheduled to work a game, the newspaper said.

However, the caller was given no satisfaction because it is against the rules of most conferences to divulge such information.

The Iowans learned, the Register said, that Minneapolis gamblers and odds makers were extremely suspicious of games worked by the official.

"They suspect him of assisting in betting coups by using his whistle to control the point 'spread'—the number of points by which a game is decided," the Register said.

"A sudden last-minute spurge of betting on a game last week was mentioned—a spurge in which the betters are said to have made a killing."

The newspaper said a federal grand jury in Minneapolis recently indicted five Minneapolis men and one from Peoria, Ill., in its investigation of an alleged midwest gambling syndicate.

Among those to testify, the Register said, was Leo Hirschfeld of Minneapolis, president of Athletic Publications, Inc., publisher of a weekly sports page sheet.

George MacKinnon, U.S. District Attorney in Minneapolis, has instructed the Internal Revenue Service's intelligence unit and the FBI to pursue scores of "leads" to the operation of a nationwide gambling syndicate, the newspaper said.

"For the first time," MacKinnon is quoted as saying, "a federal grand jury has had a look at some of the ramifications of the gambling racket on a national scale."

"We now know who some of the principal characters are and how they work."

Heinsohn's 32 Peps Celtics, 125-112

BOSTON (AP)—Tom Heinsohn, Holy Cross All-American, making a solid bid for rookie-of-the-year honors, contributed 32 points to Boston's 125-112 victory over St. Louis Thursday at Boston Garden.

Forwards Mel Hutchins and George Yardley were the big guns as Fort Wayne defeated New York 120-114 in the first half of the National Basketball Assn. double-header.

Mullins' time was 1:55.3 which eclipses the old indoor standard of 1:56.9.

Mullins Better Mark

University of Nebraska freshman track star Joe Mullins shattered the Nebraska East Stadium indoor track mark in an 880 work-out Thursday.

Mullins' time was 1:55.3 which eclipses the old indoor standard of 1:56.9.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

Nebraska's answer to the Army-McCarthy hearings of a couple years ago—the Robertson quail-hunting episode—may not have been as spectacular, but it proves interesting and entertaining.

There were tense moments, monotonous meanderings splashed with reams of hearsay and, occasionally, humorous situations to relieve the pressure.

One thing that certainly distinguished the Game Warden vs. Robertson go-round from the Joe vs. Dogface row was the lack of objections.

And no one was continually droning, "Mr. Chairman . . . Mr. Chairman."

Sen. Don McGinley ran off the show in as rapid fashion as possible and was readily accessible on first call.

And both attorneys, serving as counsel for the embattled warden Harland Huppert and Game Commissioner Robertson, seemed most congenial—often gracious.

Only a few objections were made and they were voiced almost apologetically by both sides. And both the counsels and the committee were quick to agree in deference to the objector.

Covering the Legislative probe of the alleged pot-shooting of a quail from a road by Robertson was a refreshing interlude for me, even though I developed a case of writer's cramp.

Sports writers get used to covering events where the score is recorded on a board near the action.

But in a pseudo-legal event like the Robertson donnybrook, you have to write a play-by-play and then try to guess who's out in front.

Members of the press corps, which included writers, flash photographers and TV movie cameramen, seemed to be in general agreement: testimony was for the birds (no quail, please), but craps—examination was entertaining.

Amusing moments were numerous and Sen. Tvrdek of Omaha scored most heavily in this department.

After about three hours of testimony on the opening day of the hearing, Sen. Tvrdek interjected a question:

"Have we definitely established this was a quail Mr. Robertson is alleged to have shot or could it have been a crow or a chicken hawk?"

Thursday afternoon he advertently addressed Atty. Gen. Beck as "Senator."

He quickly corrected his error: "Pardon me for insulting you."

With all the talk about a quail it was bound to happen and Sen. Simmons of Fremont gets the credit.

During some questioning he referred to Robertson as, "Mr. Quail."

Post Script: Someday maybe I'll write a "requiem for a quail." But I'll have to wait until my writing hand heals.

Aragon Convicted Of Fix; Career Probably Over

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The colorful and lucrative 12-year career of Art Aragon probably ended Thursday when a Superior Court jury convicted the Los Angeles welterweight of felony fight-fixing charges.

The jury of six men and six women deliberated more than 10 hours since last Tuesday before finding the Golden Boy guilty of offering unranked Dick Goldstein $500 to throw a fight in Texas.

The 29-year-old Aragon stared blankly when the verdict was read aloud in the packed courtroom. Then, accompanied by his wife, Georgia, a brother, Joe, 19, and Attorney Paul Caruso, Aragon walked in stunned silence from the courtroom through a barrage of newsmen's flashbulbs.

"Honest to God, it isn't so," Aragon said before leaving the Hall of Justice where he has nervously spent the past two days awaiting the verdict. He remains free on $1,000 bond.

Caruso said he intends to file a motion for a new trial March 14, a week before Aragon comes up before Judge Herbert V. Walker for a probation hearing and sentence.

The conviction probably was the coup de grace to Aragon's fictitious future. The State Athletic Commission has indicated that his 1957 boxing license depended on an acquittal.

Four NWU Seniors Bow Out Tonight

Four seniors on the Nebraska Wesleyan University basketball squad will play the final home game of their collegiate careers Friday night when Wesleyan meets Hastings at the Wesleyan gymnasium.

The seniors are Glen Reed, Waverly; Bob Leslie, Malcolm; Dale Lemon, Lincoln; and Walden McNaught, Polk.

Reed and Leslie have been starting regularly this season and Lemon and McNaught have been used as substitutes. Reed is currently leading the Wesleyan scorers with 340 points in 20 games for a 17 point average. Leslie is third in scoring with 185 in 20 games.

The Wesleyan squad will be trying for a revenge win Friday. Hastings beat them 88-69 on the Bronco court January 26.

The probable starters for both squads:

WESLEYAN: Hinson (6-0); f. Nelson (6-4); Barney (6-2); c. Hansen (6-4); Leslie (6-6); e. Peterson (6-2); Reed (5-10).

HASTINGS: Hinson (6-0); f. Nelson (6-4); Barney (6-2); c. Hansen (6-4); Leslie (6-6); e. Peterson (6-2); Reed (5-10).

K-STATERS ADVANCE IN LOOP RACE

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Kansas State's tall twosome, Jack Parr and Bob Boozer, are asserting themselves strongly in the race for individual scoring honors, Big Seven Conference basketball statistics show today.

Parr, 6-9, moved into third place with an eight-game average of 18.6. Boozer, 6-7 sophomore, edged into fourth with 18.5. Boozer has been especially strong at the free throw line, sinking 66 and missing only 22 for a percentage of .750.

Still in the lead is Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas, who also is dueling for national honors. In conference games only, the 7-foot Jayhawker has an average of 22.5 in eight outings.

Fremont, Boys Town Vie In Prep Cage Feature

Tigers Carry 11-Game Streak Into Big Test

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

Two teams, with growing win streaks, both ranked in the top five in The Star's basketball ratings, clash in the feature game of the Nebraska prep program tonight.

Fremont, rated first and with an 11-game victory string, visits Boys Town, the number five club. Boys Town has won seven in a row.

Fremont has never defeated Boys Town in five previous meetings. The Tigers will have a tough time in the Boys Town arena, but from here it appears that height and good shooting will offset Boys Town's famed fast break and full-court press. The choice is Fremont.

In another big battle Creighton Prep, the number two team, visits Omaha Central, ranked in the Top Ten. Prep won the first match in overtime and is the choice to repeat, perhaps with less difficulty. Prep has yet to lose to a Nebraska team.

The choices in other leading games:

Friday
Northeast over Fairbury—Rockets set up the Mid-East Conference title in a breeze.

Omaha South over Omaha Tech—Packers are playing good ball.

Scottsbluff over Gering—Another victory over weak competition for the Bearcats.

Hastings over Grand Island—Hastings booming back, has the height and heft to win this one.

Beatrice over York—Orangemen going at a good clip now.

Holdrege over Lexington—Dusters dust off another one; it should be closer than the last meeting, however.

McCook over Curtis—Bison bulldoze this foe.

Omaha Westside over South-east—Should be a good scrap.

Columbus over Norfolk—A big finish for the Maroons.

Omaha Holy Name over Blair—Could be tough for the Ramblers.

Cozad over Sidney—Cozads should pad growing win string.

Other Friday choices:
Kearney over Gothenburg, North Platte over Cheyenne, Omaha Benson over Council Bluffs Abe Lincoln, Council Bluffs Thomas Jefferson over Omaha North, Broken Bow over Loup City, Crete over Seward, Nebraska City over Pawnee City, University High over Plattsmouth, Columbus St. Bonaventure over Clarkson, Pius X over Omaha St. Joseph, Fullerton over Schuyler, Hastings St. Cecilia over Harvard.

SATURDAY
Lincoln High over Omaha South—Links due for a top effort.

Hastings over Beatrice—Hastings may have trouble.

Boys Town over Omaha North—Revenge is sweet.

Creighton Prep over Falls City—Bluejay breeze.

Others: Bellevue over Blair, Ogallala over Alliance, Scottsbluff over Cheyenne, Crete over Tecumseh, Pius X over Omaha Cathedral, Curtis over Gothenburg.

FRIDAY
Beatrice at York, Fremont at Boys Town, Hastings at Grand Island, Gothenburg at Kearney, Fairbury at Northeast, Cheyenne, Wyo. at North Platte.

Omaha Benson at Council Bluffs Abraham Lincoln, Creighton Prep at Omaha Central, Council Bluffs Thomas Jefferson vs. Omaha North at Omaha U. Omaha Tech at Omaha South.

Lincoln Chances
Slim In Mat Meet

OMAHA—With Omaha wrestlers gaining the role of the favorite in almost every weight class, chances appear mighty slim that Lincoln schools will produce a champion in the state meet which begins at Omaha Tech tonight.

Top Lincoln prospects include Southeast heavyweight Bob Fick, Lincoln High's 165-pound Gene Barnhill and Northeast's 138-pound Ed Logan.

The field in the tourney is the largest in history with 143 entries from 14 schools slated to appear. Omaha South is the defending champion and is favored to repeat again this year.

Tonight's matches will reduce the field for semifinal bouts Saturday afternoon.

Ex-Link Defensive Star

Barnett Sparks Rejuvenation

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—One of the main reasons that Harvard has established itself as a "spoiler" in the Ivy League is the defensive play of Bob Barnett of Lincoln in a revamped lineup.

Barnett sparked in the Crimson's two latest outings, in which they wrote a new school scoring record against Boston College and then upset highly-favored Princeton.

Wilson pressed his new lineup into action after Harvard had dropped six games in a row, five of them in the Ivy League. He started three guards, Barnett among them, against Boston College, in an offense-minded gesture calculated to stimulate Harvard's lagging scoring power. Wilson hoped to counteract the resultant defensive disadvantage by using Barnett, whom he calls "a real ballhawk" on defense.

The plan worked to perfection.

Barnett, doing yeoman duty on a somewhat depleted defense, helped to hold B.C.'s point total down while the Crimson's big offensive guns had a field day. Barnett himself contributed 10 points to the new Harvard single-game record of 101.

Barnett was called on again to bolster the defense against Princeton, then one of the hottest teams in the Ivy circuit. He not only starred in a tight defense that completely stymied the Tigers, but pumped in eight quick points in the first period, putting the Crimson ahead to stay. Bob had 13 in all for the game.

The credit for Harvard's recent success, of course, isn't all Barnett's; but, as coach Wilson himself points out, Barnett is the "team quarterback" and largely responsible for getting the entire squad to function smoothly in a greatly revised attack and defense.

Barnett played two years of basketball at Lincoln High. In three years of baseball and football, Barnett played on two state championship teams in each sport.

ROBERTSON HEARING

hind a plum thicket at the time of the shooting and could not see the bird or Robertson.

The commission member's version of the location of Paul Gilbert, then commission secretary, also differed from the diagram prepared by Huppert.

Robertson testified he first became aware of the charges filed against him through a phone call from the Johnson County judge.

He also testified he never tried to have the case dismissed and that he was displeased when he was informed by the new commission director, Mel Steen, that the charges were being dismissed.

Robertson, who said he believed "prejudice" was involved in the filing of the charges, said he called Attorney General Clarence Beck to see if the case couldn't be reinstated.

Asked if he consulted Beck "after the smoke started rising," Robertson replied:

"Well, the smoke started rising right away after the dismissal, so I would say it was after that."

"Went Along"

Robertson said he "went along with the dismissal" which was ordered by Steen because "we (the commission) had just hired a new director and I felt it would be detrimental to go over the head of the new director without commission approval."

In his closing argument, Dent told the committee that events

"had gotten out of their proper relationship" and that Robertson had his "key witness taken out from under him."

"The fact that they (wardens) waited until after Gilbert's death to file the charges put Mr. Robertson in a mighty deep hole and I think it was very unfair," Dent said.

Citing testimony of a "secret" meeting of wardens and state-mentals made by witnesses that Bill Cunningham, district supervisor and Huppert's superior, was "prejudiced against Robertson," Dent said:

"There was pressure to bring charges against Robertson — all along the way" and that the charges were filed "because it was Don Robertson."

Steen Defended

Dent also defended Steen's actions in ordering Huppert to dismiss the action.

Stating that Steen made a personal investigation of the case, Dent said:

"Mr. Steen came to the conclusion this was a borderline case and ordered Huppert to withdraw the complaint. He has since testified that he might have been wiser to have let the case go to court."

"But at that time, Mr. Steen felt that the proper thing to do was attempt to restore the proper relations with Johnson County attorney (Raymond Morrissey) and restore confidence in his enforcement officers for the future."

Tiger John Pesek To Grapple Here

Tiger John Pesek of Ravenna returns to the wrestling wars of Lincoln next Tuesday when he will meet Jack Dillon, southern United States champion.

Pesek, famous for his toe hold, has been wrestling around Nebraska recently.

Other matches on the Feb. 26 Fairgrounds card will pit Lincolnite Jean Noble against Lloraine Johnson in a showdown match, and Larry Hamilton against the Masked Marvel.

Lincoln Teams In Finals

Lincoln Cathedral and St. Patrick's will meet tonight for the championship of the Lincoln Diocesan Junior High tournament at Pius X.

St. Patrick's edged past York St. Joseph's, 35-34, and Cathedral won by forfeit over Bellwood Marjatta in semifinal games.

Scoring Slump Hits Huskers

Nebraska's Cornhuskers have gone into a scoring slump since their two-week layoff during mid-semester examinations.

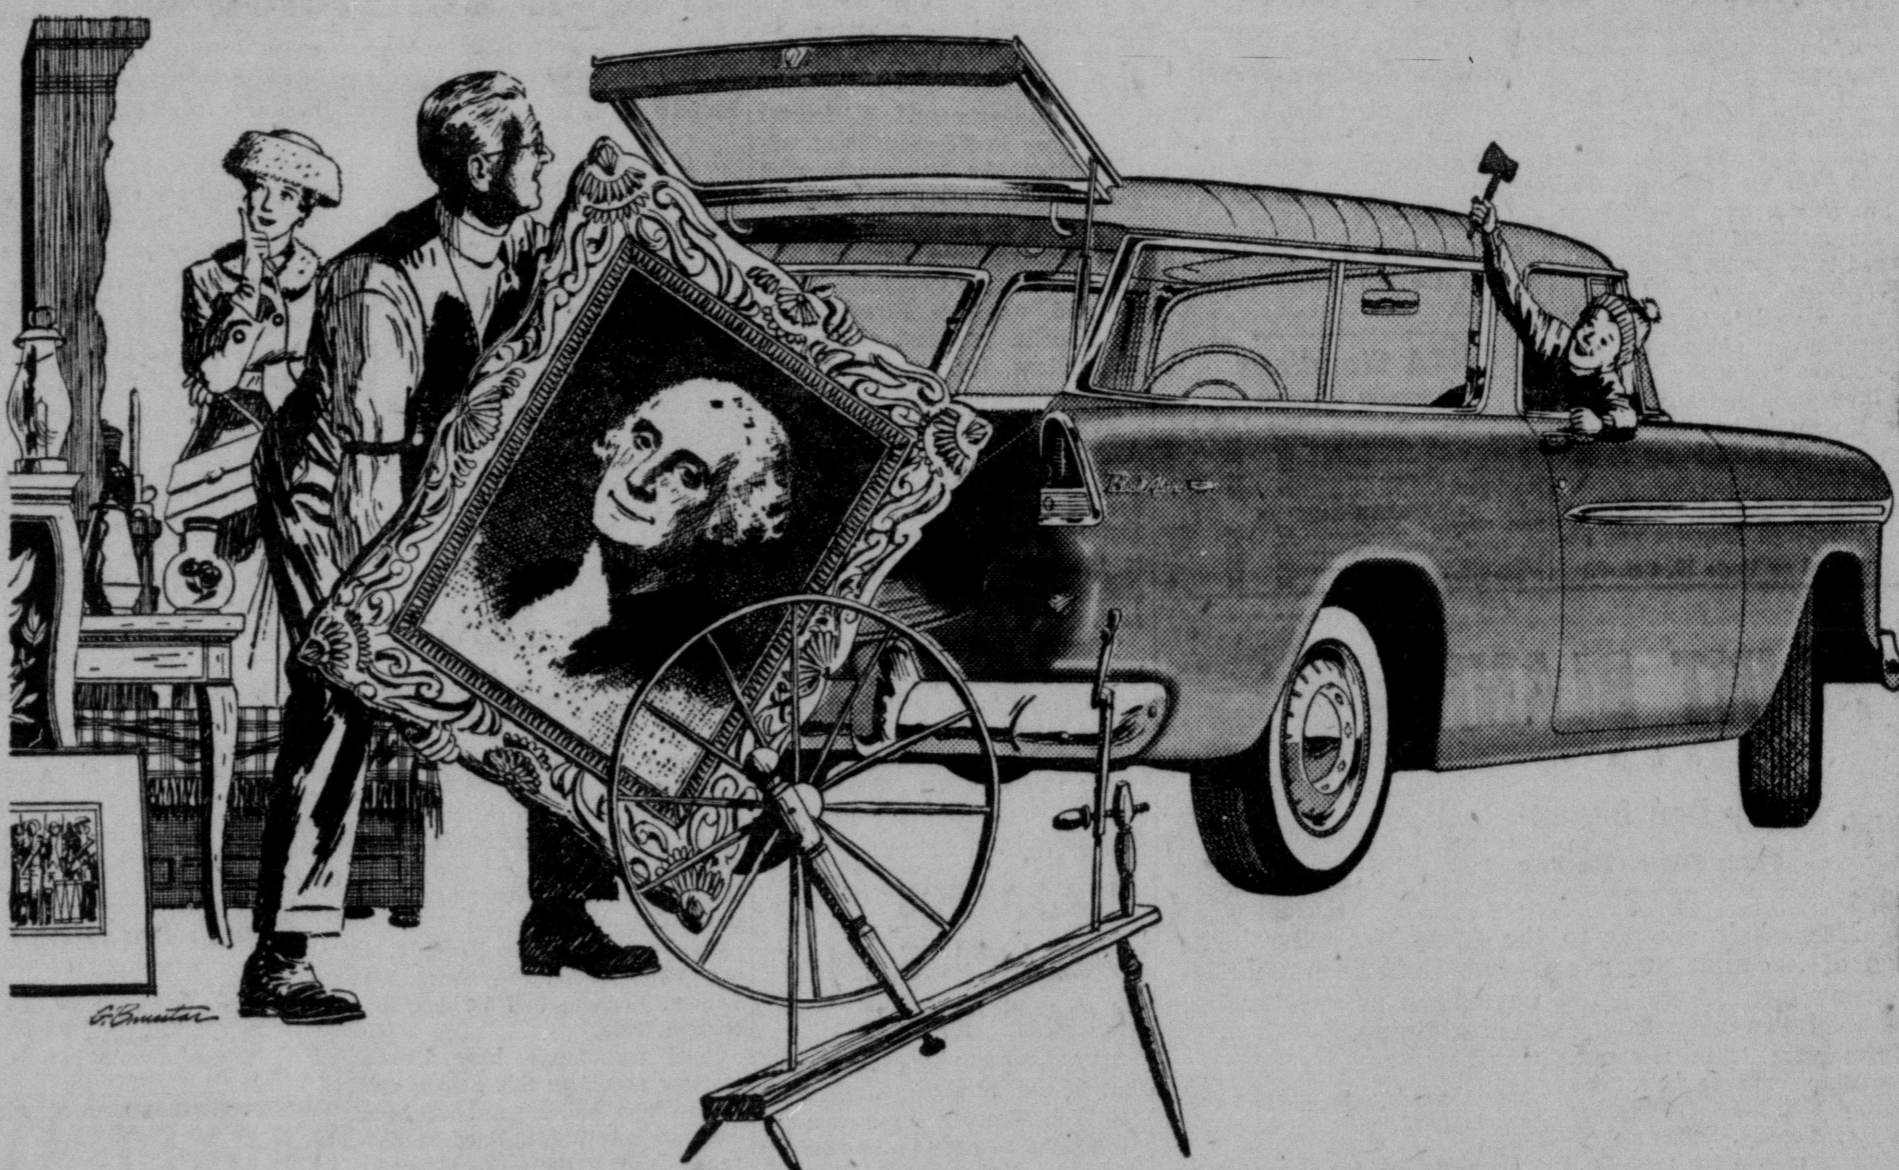

Prior to the break Nebraska was the hottest-shooting team in the Big Seven. Since the layoff, the Huskers have been unable to crack the 60-point barrier in five straight games.

An example of the blight that has set in is Don Smidt, Helena, Mont., junior. He has had two baskets in his last 23 attempts in games against Kansas State and Iowa State. Early in the season he had a 24-point night against Purdue and hit 22 against UCLA.

Gary Reimers is the leading scorer through 19 games with 247 points for a 13-point average.

Texas Executive Says Boost In Europe Oil Demand Hiked Prices In U.S.

Friday February 22, 1957 THE LINCOLN STAR 19

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of Humble Oil & Refining Co. testified Thursday his company raised its prices last month in the hope it would be able to buy more oil for Europe. But that didn't work, he said, because other companies raised their prices too.

2,560 More Servicemen Register At USO Here

A total of 2,560 servicemen, 105 dependents and 315 civilians registered at the Lincoln USO Center during the month of January, according to a report Thursday from Mrs. Leota Lowe, director of the Center.

Mrs. Lowe said 3,456 cups of coffee were served at the club last month.

such markets as the New England market because imported foreign oil could be purchased at lower prices.

Price Boosts
Mrs. Smith and Baker both testified at a hearing of a joint Senate Anti-Monopoly Public Lands subcommittee which is inquiring into the oil-for-Europe program and the domestic price increases that followed its inauguration.

Doctors' Report Hits Flouride Use

NEW YORK (AP)—Flouridation of drinking water "imposes an extraordinary risk on certain individuals," according to a statement by 300 medical men.

Thirteen members of a medical-dental committee on the evaluation of flouridation directed the statement to the attention of Mayor Robert F. Wagner. The statement also hits at what it calls use of public water supplies as "a vehicle for drugs."

Public hearings on flouridation of New York drinking water are to be conducted March 6.

The medical men's report said positive proof of the safety of flouridation is lacking.

It declared a long-term study is needed to determine whether flouridation could be "an insidious factor in chronic disease."

Mrs. Smith suggested the price increases were due to "elimination or curtailment of foreign competition." Contending that oil supplies and production still surpass demand despite blocking of the Suez Canal, Mrs. Smith said the law of supply and demand "is not completely applicable to this situation for the simple reason that the situation existing at least borders on, or approaches, a monopolistic condition."

James W. Foley of New York, president of the Texas Co., followed Baker as a witness. He declared his company believed the price increases were "fair and reasonable, fully justified and required for a progressive and economically healthy petroleum industry."

Further Foley asserted, "the Texas Company has neither participated with any other person or company nor does it know of any combined, co-ordinated, or other efforts within the petroleum industry to fix, control or in any way adjust petroleum prices."

Labor Costs
Baker, whose company is a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, was the first oil industry spokesman to be heard at the inquiry. In addition to the stepped up European demand, Baker said last month's price boost, Humble's first in nearly four years, grew out of rising labor and materials costs and a need to encourage development of new oil reserves.

Baker said prices of crude oil, gasoline and petroleum products "generally are relatively low" compared with increases in wages, materials costs, consumer earnings and financial returns of other major industries.
"Finally, and most important," he said, "they are low in that they have not encouraged enough exploration to maintain the ratio of proved reserves to domestic demand."
Baker challenged previous testimony that this country "is swimming in gasoline," saying that domestic demand for oil has been outstripping known U.S. reserves.

Missionary To Speak At Grace Methodist
Margurite Lowe Berkey, a missionary in China for 30 years, and since World War II a missionary in Japan, will speak at Grace Methodist Church Sunday.
She will address the Junior High Assembly at 9:30 a.m. At 6:30 p.m. she will address the Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship and adults, and show slides of her work at Plamore Institute in Kobe, Japan.
Mrs. Berkey, who returns to her mission assignment in March, will be the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Vance while in Lincoln.

Stapleton Ranch Slowly Turning Into Home For Boys

STAPLETON, Neb. (P) — The dream of turning a western Nebraska ranch into a home for boys is slowly becoming reality for Don Lair of Stapleton.

A year ago, Lair filed articles of incorporation for a non-profit organization, known as "Lariat Ranch and Vocational School" that eventually will be a smaller kind of Boys Town.

Lair, who has been working almost around the clock to obtain the needed funds, has his first three boys and believes "we'll begin to progress now."

"A lot of would-be contributors to the ranch fund were waiting to see if we really meant business—if we were really going to take in some boys. Well, we did, and they like it."

The new boys at the Lair Home are John Cook, 11, of Sioux City, Iowa, and Claude Wilson, 13, and Oren Thompson, 11, both of Grand Island.

Remodeling Home

To make room for the three newcomers, an addition is being added and remodeled at the Lair home. Later, individual cabins will be built and the boys quartered in them as "families."

The organizational plan of the ranch is to make it substitute for home life as nearly as possible. As the number of boys increases, Lair said, they will be assigned 12 to a cabin, in charge of a house mother and father. Lair and his wife are now filling that job with the three boys.

"They like it fine on the ranch," said Lair. "They eat their own weight and sleep like logs. I had to buy another saddle horse. They really like to ride."

No Shortage of Boys

Young Cook was the first boy to join the Lair family. He came here in November. Wilson read about the Lariat ranch in a newspaper, and urged relatives to let him come here. Wilson and young Thompson came through the co-operation of M. L. Wimberly, head of the Hall County welfare department.

There's no shortage of boys, Lair said, just money and facilities to handle them. He noted that the ranch has gotten letters from boys as far away as Kentucky and California.

Lair isn't discouraged with his small start, recalling that Father Flanagan's famed Boys Town had a similar beginning — "I remember, when all he had was a big stone house outside Omaha."

'Clean Bill Of Health' Given FHA Office

OMAHA (P) — The Nebraska office of the Federal Housing Administration has emerged with "an apparent clean bill of health" from an investigation prompted by a dismissed employee's charges, director Russell M. Bailey said Thursday.

Leslie S. Doane, for 10 years an appraiser with the Omaha FHA office, alleged favoritisms were shown certain builders by the Nebraska FHA office.

Doane was discharged by W. Richard Lomax, FHA director of personnel in Washington.

Bailey said two men from the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Washington, parent bureau of the FHA, conducted the investigation of the Omaha office.

Bailey said Doane's charges resulted from failing to be appointed director in 1953.

Snow is forecast Friday for the upper Pacific coast, northern Rockies and parts of the central Plains. Snow and rain will fall in the central Rockies and parts of Lakes region. Rain is slated for Ohio and Tennessee.

Milk Production 2,283,000 Pounds In State For '56

Nebraska milk production in 1956 was 2,283 million pounds. The State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics set production at 5,410 pounds per cow, up 40 per cent from 1955 and the best the state has ever recorded. The number of cows was estimated at 422,000 head, down 6,000 from the year before.

Ruzicka Sisters Supply Cheering

POLK, Neb. (P) — It's easy to find the four Ruzicka sisters when there is a basketball game at Polk. Bridget, the oldest, is cheerleader for the "A" squad. Florence, the next sister, is cheerleader for the "B" squad. Irene, the third sister, is the cheerleader for the grade school and 3-year-old Jeanice is mascot for the cheering section.

Capt. Davis Dies After Heart Attack

OMAHA (P) — Capt. John K. Davis, 44, San Diego, Calif., director of the shore establishment department of the Naval Reserve Training command, died of a heart attack at his quarters at Fort Omaha.

Change In REA Apportionment Measure Sought

WASHINGTON (P) — A group of senators including Curtis and Hruska of Nebraska have introduced legislation to remove from present law a requirement that one-fourth of all funds appropriated for the Rural Electrification be apportioned among the states.

Sen. Curtis told the Senate this requirement no longer is necessary since about 95 per cent of the nation's farms are electrified.

Identical Twins Hospitalized For Same Operation

NORFOLK, Neb. — Edwin and Edward Krueger, identical twins living near Pierce, are hospitalized in the same room in a Norfolk hospital following appendectomies.

The boys, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Krueger, both complained of being sick Sunday. When they were still ill Monday, they were taken to a Pierce doctor who diagnosed both cases as appendicitis.

The boys, 11, were taken to a Norfolk hospital and appendectomies were performed immediately.

Services Held For Mrs. Campbell, 79

ARCADIA, Neb. — Funeral services were held in Arcadia for Mrs. Hattie Mae Campbell, 79, Arcadia resident for 40 years. Her death followed an illness of about three years.

Surviving is a brother, Cleon Buttery of Omaha.

Action Taken Seeking To Halt Building Of Grant Courthouse

HYANNIS, Neb. (P) — A suit has been filed in Grant County District Court at Hyannis to prevent the county board of commissioners to proceed with plans to build a new courthouse and jail.

The suit, filed by Charles L. Bond, a resident of the county, names the county and the board of commissioners as defendants.

In Bond's petition, filed by his attorney, Leo M. Bayer of Alliance, six reasons are listed in support of Bond's contention the board was without authority to proceed.

Jewish Leaders Aid Is Asked By Ike

... In Move For Peace In Mideast

A half-dozen American Jews, including President Barney Balaban of Paramount Pictures, were called to Secretary of State Dulles' office.

Eisenhower's appeal was delivered through his special assistant on minority affairs, Maxwell tions if approved by the Assembly. It has not made clear whether it will actually vote for sanction but numerous delegates said in corridor conversations that Washington must take the initiative.

—Belt-Tightening—

... Raab, who also is secretary of the cabinet.

After the meeting in Dulles' office, which lasted about one and one-half hours, Balaban told reporters:

"We came here at the request of the secretary of state and the government. We listened and we have no comment."

Asked to Use Influence

Authoritative sources said that Raab told the group Eisenhower wanted them to use their influence.

Committee Cuts 12% Of Request

... For Interior

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taking its cue from Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, the House Appropriations Committee Thursday slashed $60,704,000 from new appropriations requested by the Interior Department.

The budget cut amounted to 10 percent, a much larger reduction percentage than the 2 percent trimmed last week from the Treasury-Post Office Department requests for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The U.S. nor Israel is willing to give an inch. The next step is likely to be played in the United Nations General Assembly which is scheduled to take up the problem Friday.

HST Against Sanctions

ISLAMORADA, Fla. (AP)—Former President Truman said Thursday he is opposed to sanctions against Israel as a means of forcing that country to withdraw its troops from disputed Middle East areas.

The largest reduction in new money for the Interior Department was denial of the entire $4 million dollars requested for subsidized domestic purchase of tungsten, asbestos, fluor spar and columbium-tantalum for the defense stockpile.

"Secretary Humphrey," the committee said, "in his recent appearance before the committee stated the 1958 budget could be cut and cited the need to resist public pressures that arise when the gov-

14 hours after President Eisenhower, in his report to the nation speech, hinted that the United States is ready, if necessary, to support some kind of U.N. sanctions against Israel.

Human said he interpreted Eisenhower's speech as outlining a policy which says "we can't interfere with strong nations but we can make small ones behave."

He said he does not feel that Israel should be punished when Russia was not penalizer for such acts of violence as the bloodshed in Hungary.

Growing Rift

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—A growing rift over U.N. sanctions against Israel Thursday imperiled its Western allies on the Middle East crisis.

With Israel standing firm in refusal to withdraw without guarantees from the Gulf of Aqaba area and the Gaza Strip, U.N. delegates looked to the United States for the next move.

Britain showed coolness to sanctions at this stage and France, the third Western partner, is definitely opposed to any restrictions on Israel.

The 20-nation General Assembly

... scheduled to convene at 3 p.m. (EST) Friday for a new debate on the Israeli-Egyptian deadlock.

... Diplomatic sources at the U.N. said the United States, on the strength of President Eisenhower's speech, appeared headed for active support of some sort of U.N. sanctions against Israel.

... The United States has said it would support a move for sanc-

Plane Cutback Charged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) complained Thursday the Pentagon is cutting back, rather than speeding up, efforts to develop nuclear-powered aircraft.

Russell said he protested to Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, during a closed door meeting they held with the Senate Armed Services committee.

Russell, chairman of the committee, told reporters: "I'm not at all satisfied on research and development of nuclear powered aircraft. Apparently Secretary Wilson thinks it is so complex and complicated that nobody else is able to do it."

Russell said funds for a nuclear aircraft had been "drastically reduced" apparently on the theory that other new weapons might supplant it. He disagreed with such a theory, saying a piloted aircraft could deliver terrific destruction more accurately than missiles of various types.

Also, he said, the pilot could come back and make a report. In general testimony, Wilson said the United States must maintain "great military strength" but should not increase it to the point of causing world alarm.

Wilson said the United States should keep 2,800,000 men in uniform during the next three years, and would have to spend 38 to 40 billion dollars or more each year for defense.

He said the world situation, as typified by the Middle East troubles and the Hungarian revolt, calls for no relaxation in efforts to protect the nation's security.

Defender Keeps Peery In Prison

Nebraska Penitentiary Warden Joseph Bovey received release papers Thursday for Wesley H. Peery, but Peery continued his residence at the prison because of a detainer filed by Lancaster County.

Peery was turned over to the prison for "safekeeping" by the Lancaster County sheriff in lieu of $5,000 bond on burglary and robbery charges.

The Sarpy County District Court recently dismissed a rape charge against Peery, but he is charged in connection with the theft of a gun from the home of Asst. Lincoln Police Chief Eugene Masters and with taking money at gun point from Charles W. Winkler.

Peery was turned over to the prison for "safekeeping" by the Lancaster County sheriff in lieu of $5,000 bond on burglary and robbery charges.

When Mrs. Demeulenaere stepped through the front door, a grimy, misshapen hound dog bounded in close behind her. It lumbered over to Miss Boone's new living room sofa, stretched out its dirty paws and fell asleep.

When Mrs. Demeulenaere started to leave, with the dog still sleeping peacefully, Miss Boone asked: "Aren't you forgetting your dog?"

"My dog!" shrieked the guest. "I thought it belonged to you. It was gnawing on a bone on your front porch when I arrived."

LONDON (AP)—Britain's doctors threatened to walk out of the state-run health service unless the government meets their demand for a 24 per cent pay increase.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan rejected the demand and said a royal commission would be set up to consider the broad question of the doctors' economic status under Britain's socialized health plan.

House Demos Ready Farm Plan Debate

WASHINGTON — House Democrats set the stage Thursday for a floor battle over new farm legislation which Republicans say would cost the taxpayers as much as a billion dollars.

In a surprise move, Democratic farm state leaders asked the House Rules Committee for immediate clearance of their bill under procedure which would permit unlimited amendments.

Rep. Poage (D-Tex.), making the request, acknowledged the Agriculture Committee was "split wide open," and that the bill "will cost a very substantial amount of money."

"We're not selling you a bargain," he told the rules group, asking for a rule that would permit any member to offer a substitute for the disputed Agriculture Committee measure when it reaches the floor.

Poage said "no one can fairly estimate the cost," but he indicated his estimate of its over-all outlay would be less than 500 million dollars.

The bill was approved by a 17-16 vote of the Agriculture Committee, with Republicans lined up solidly against it.

The Democratic-backed bill would establish a form of supplemental soil bank designed to limit corn and feed grain production. It would pay farmers from $10 to $50 an acre, in addition to regular soil bank payments, to take a percentage of corn and feed grains out of production.

Powell, Allyson University High To Receive New Band Uniforms

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dick Powell and June Allyson announced Thursday night that they were separating after 11½ years of marriage.

The actress said: "We have not been getting along for the past few years, even though we have tried. I have decided that Richard and I have a better chance for happiness if we are apart from one another."

The actor-producer-director said that the decision was made by his wife. "It's true that we have not been getting along," he said. "But I thought it was worth another chance."

"Unfortunately, June did not agree," Powell said.

Powell and Miss Allyson have two children, Pamela, 8, and Richard Jr., 6. They were married in Beverly Hills Aug. 19, 1945.

The couple said that Powell will probably move out of the family home in Mandeville Canyon, in West Los Angeles, over the weekend. Powell said he would stay with friends.

Bovey said another meeting is scheduled tonight following the University High-Plattsburgh basketball game to work out further details of the project.

The measure had been given a public hearing earlier. The committee also heard and advanced:

LB 334—Allowing notaries public who are officers or employees of savings and loan association, to function as notaries in matters involving their firms.

LB 372—Relating to maximum payments to officers and employees of insurance companies without approval of directors.

University High To Receive New Band Uniforms

The University High School band is definitely going to get new uniforms.

Representatives of the Parent-Teacher-Student Association of University High met Thursday night to formulate plans for raising funds to purchase uniforms for the band.

At present, the school has a band but no uniforms.

Parent Spokesman Joseph Bovey said "we have discussed the matter before, but Thursday night we definitely decided to go ahead with the project to get the uniforms for the band."

Medical Association Opposition To 'Slow Down' Free Polio Clinic Program

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The opposition of the State Medical Association to mass polio clinics is sure to "slow down" the free clinic program, S. Alan Rouse, director of the polio division of the State Health Department, said Thursday.

Rouse said that the request for such clinics, which must be conducted in co-operation with local physicians, has decreased considerably since the House of Delegates of the Medical Association took a stand against them last Sunday.

Rouse said that for two weeks prior to the Association's decision, his decision had received an increased number of requests from civic-minded groups over the state wanting to conduct such clinics.

Federal Program

Under the federal program, the State Health Department can furnish Salk polio vaccine at no cost for distribution through clinics sponsored by civic organizations. Vaccine given in clinics is limited to persons under 20 and pregnant women.

Rouse said 25 such clinics have been held in Nebraska to date, principally in eastern and south-eastern Nebraska.

The polio division director said Nebraska has been allocated a total of $366,061 in federal funds for the purchase of vaccine for this program and has spent $174,525. He said this leaves a balance of $191,536 to purchase vaccine before the cutoff date of June 30, 1957.

State Health Director Dr. E.A. Rogers said no effort will be made to spend all federal funds before June 30, unless there are specific requests for them.

'Come Out Even'

He said the Health Department would "try to come out even" on June 30 so that no vaccine would be left to administer. Dr. Rogers said that on June 30 the federal funds for administering the program would cease regardless of what vaccine was on hand, and pointed out the State Health Department has no funds available to pay for storing, packing and shipping the vaccine after that date.

Rouse said he is continuing to advise groups requesting free vaccine that it is available until June 30.

Rouse commented, "I am not in favor of the practice of medicine in clinics. It should be practiced in the physician's office. But in certain situations where we are trying to achieve a certain goal in a limited amount of time, we have to resort to both the physician's office and clinics."

History of Program

The history of the federal program shows that from the spring of 1955 until March 1, 1956, the State Health Department distributed 100 per cent of all the vaccine allocated to the state.

Late in February, 1956, the State Medical Association's House of Delegates asked that a change be made in the distribution system and from March 1, 1956 until August 1, 1956, 90 per cent of the vaccine went through commercial channels and 10 per cent was distributed by the State Health Department.

Rouse said this 10 per cent was allocated to physicians who wanted to use it for indigent patients.

After August 1, Rouse said, there were no more allocations and physicians could use all they wanted.

National Polio Group Calls For Clinic Use

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis called Thursday for an all-out winter and spring campaign to wipe out epidemic polio this year.

It asked for help from "various community and public resources" in doing the job through widespread setting up of clinics.

The program is aimed at giving Salk inoculations to 63 million Americans under the age of 40 who still are not vaccinated against paralytic polio. Forty-five million others have received at least one shot.

One-Third of 'Dimes'

Basil O'Connor, Foundation president, notified the organization's 3,100 chapters that one-third of their share of the 1957 March of Dimes net receipts could be spent on the drive, but that portion could not possibly do the entire job.

"What we hope to do with our limited funds," he said, "is to start the ball rolling."

$160 Taken From Housing Office

OMAHA (AP)—The Omaha housing authority office was held up Thursday afternoon by a Negro gunman who escaped with $160.

The gunman herded five employees into a closet and ordered them to stay there five minutes while he made his getaway.

CLINICS OKAYED BY LANCASTER MEDICAL ASSN.

Dr. John A. Brown, polio advisory committee chairman for the Lancaster County Medical Society, said, "While the Lancaster County Medical Society agrees with the State Medical Association stand that it is best for the physician to administer the vaccine in his own office, we do not intend in any way to object to or interfere with mass clinic inoculations."

Two mass polio vaccine clinics have been conducted in Lincoln and Lancaster County since the first of the year.

At the first clinic conducted in January, 9,970 persons received vaccine shots.

At the second clinic, which ended Thursday, a total of 6,448 persons were administered the polio vaccine, bringing the clinic total to 16,418.

Some persons have received shots on regular clinic days, (Thursdays from 1 to 4 p.m. and Saturdays from 8:30 to 11 a.m.) so the total number of persons inoculated would be more than 17,000.
